JUDGE STUDLEY FOR MAYOR

NOMINATED BY REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION LAST NIGHT.

F. S. Hamilton, Sr., Renominated for General Registrar—Samuel Hemingway for Treasurer, Eugene C. Hill for Controller, John F. Douglass for City Clerk, H. H. Guernsey for Tax Collector, Edward F. Maroney for City Sheriff—A Resolution Passed Favoring Constitutional Reform—Candidates Named by the Town Convention.

At the republican city convention held last night in Republican hall on Temple street the following city ticket was nominated:

For Mayor—John P. Studley.
For City Treasurer—Samuel Hemingway.

For General Registrar—F. S. Hamilton, Sr.

For Comptroller—Eugene C. Hill.

For City Clerk—John F. Douglass.

For Tax Collector—H. H. Guernsey.

For City Sheriff—Edward F. Maroney.

The convention was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Theodore H. Macdonald, chairman of the republican town committee, who called for nominations for permanent chairman. Police Commissioner John H. Clarke nominated for the position Major D. A. Blakeslee and Dr. Waldo H. Minor named Professor William E. Chandler.

Amos Dickerson of the Thirteenth ward and Oscar P. Ives of the Eighth ward were appointed tellers. A ballot for permanent chairman was taken, eighty-eight votes being cast, of which Professor Chandler received forty-five and Major Blakeslee forty-three. J. V. Rattlesdorfer of the Sixth ward nominated for secretary S. Fred Strong of that ward, who was elected unanimously. Jacob B. Ullman and Colonel John W. Lowe were appointed tellers of the permanent organization.

Nominations for mayor were then called for, and John M. Crampton of the Eighth ward placed in nomination. John P. Studley, Councilman Hosley of the Fourth ward seconded the nomination.

Fred W. Orr of the Ninth ward in a lengthy speech nominated Joseph C. Kelly, whose nomination was seconded by W. G. Davidson of the Ninth ward. Howard C. Webb presented the name of J. E. Hublinger, J. Birney Tuttle seconding the nomination. On motion of Colonel L. M. Ullman the convention voted to proceed to an informal ballot. On this ballot 89 votes were cast, 45 being necessary for a choice. Every delegate was present or represented by a proxy. The vote resulted as follows: Elizur H. Sperry 4, John P. Studley 26, J. E. Hublinger 23, J. C. Kelly 31.

A second informal ballot was taken and resulted as follows: Studley 31, Hublinger 27, Kelly 25, Sperry 5, blank 1. On motion of Frederick A. Betts it was voted to make the next ballot a formal one.

Mr. Kelly then after thanking his supporters for their votes for him on the previous ballots withdrew his name in favor of Judge Studley. The ballot was then taken and resulted in Judge Studley receiving 53 and J. C. Hublinger 40. On motion of Marcus Smith of the Fourth ward, seconded by Howard C. Webb and J. Birney Tuttle, the nomination of Judge Studley was made unanimous.

Nomination of a candidate for city treasurer was next in order and for the place only one candidate was named. Frederick A. Betts presented the name of Samuel Hemingway and Major Blakeslee seconded. The secretary was instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the convention for Mr. Hemingway.

Next came the nomination of a general registrar. John H. Pearce of the Fifth ward placed before the convention the name of F. S. Hamilton, sr., of the Fifth ward, the present republican general registrar, and James R. Lyon of the Ninth ward nominated William G. Davidson of that ward. On motion of Colonel Ullman the convention proceeded to take a formal ballot, and while the ballots were being counted Colonel Ullman moved that a committee of two be appointed to wait upon Judge Studley and inform him of his nomination for mayor, and escort him to the convention hall. Colonel Ullman and J. C. Kelly were appointed members of the committee and retired.

The result of the ballot for general registrar was then announced. Of the 89 votes cast Mr. Hamilton received 53 and Mr. Davidson 31. On motion of Mr. Davidson the nomination of Mr. Hamilton was made unanimous.

For controller there were two candidates for the nomination. Ex-Councilman F. S. Rice of the Second ward nominated F. C. Lum, formerly a member of the board of compensation, and Alderman Wallace S. Moyle of the Eleventh ward named Eugene C. Hill of that ward.

At this time Colonel Ullman and J. C. Kelly were absent, having gone to notify Judge Studley of his nomination, and after the ballots had been counted Chairman Chandler announced that 89 votes had been cast, two more than there were delegates present, and that therefore another ballot must be taken. Louis M. Ullman, however, announced that there were present proxies for Colonel Ullman and Mr. Kelly, and that the vote cast, 89, was correct. This explanation was accepted, and the result of the ballot was announced. Mr. Hill received 46 and Mr. Lum 43.

$1,000,000 IN BONDS FOUND.

Discovery in Chicago Comptroller's Office—Said to be Worthless.

Chicago, April 4.—Bonds having a par value in excess of $1,000,000 were found to-day in the vault of the office of the city comptroller, by members of the accounting firm of Haskins & Seils, which is engaged in some expert work on the books of the city of Chicago. The bonds were issued in 1873 by the Chicago and Great Northern Railroad company. They were found on the top shelf of the vault, in a tin box, which was covered with a heavy layer of dust.

It is thought by many of the men in the office of the comptroller that the bonds were collateral security deposited with the city in the effort to make good the shortage of City Treasurer Gage, who defaulted early in the seventies, leaving a shortage of something like half a million dollars. President John R. Walsh of the Chicago National bank said to-night that the bonds were worthless. "The road never amounted to anything," he said. "It never was anything but a balloon scheme, and the securities were in all probability, turned over to the city to make good the shortage of Mr. Gage."

NEWFOUNDLAND QUESTION.

An Understanding Between the Colonial and Home Governments.

London, April 4.—Robert Bond, the premier and colonial secretary of Newfoundland, confirms the statement that an understanding had been reached on the French shore question satisfactory to Newfoundland and Great Britain, and which, it is hoped, will prove satisfactory to France. A representative of the Associated Press has learned that Mr. Bond before sailing for home will bring up a matter still more interesting to America, namely, the question of imperial ratification of the reciprocity treaty negotiated between the United States and Newfoundland eleven years ago, but which has never been put in force owing to consideration objections.

TWO WOMEN FIGHT A DUEL.

LONG STANDING JEALOUSY SETLED WITH REVOLVERS.

One Had Said She Could Take the Other's Husband Away from Her Any Time She Wished—A Challenge Made and Quickly Accepted—The Challenger and Insulter Twice Shot in the Breast.

Chicago, April 4.—A special to the Record Herald from New York, O. T., says:

Mrs. Ella Seiglin and Mrs. Daughson, living near this city, fought a duel with revolvers at twenty paces yesterday, and Mrs. Seiglin was shot twice in the breast and is now in a hospital dangerously but not necessarily fatally wounded. The duel grew out of a long standing feud between women, jealousy being the original cause. Mrs. Daughson lives one farm just south of the city and Mrs. Seiglin has frequently endeavored to arouse the temper of her neighbor by various means, the most effectual being the claim that she (Mrs. Seiglin) could take Mrs. Daughson's husband away from his wife any time she wished.

Mrs. Daughson finally appealed to the courts and yesterday forenoon Mrs. Seiglin was fined $300 for trespassing upon the Daughson property and incurring trouble. As soon as she paid the fine, Mrs. Seiglin drove out to the Daughson house, smearing under the loss of money and the criticism of the trial judge. Riding up to the door of the Daughson house she invited her rival to come out and fight a duel.

Mrs. Daughson promptly accepted the challenge and came out armed with a revolver. The women then faced each other at fifty feet and began shooting, the signal being given by a daughter of Mrs. Seiglin, who had accompanied her from town. Each fired three shots without effect. Then Mrs. Daughson got the range and fired two shots in quick succession, both striking Mrs. Seiglin in the breast. She fell and Mrs. Daughson assisted in carrying her into the house, where a physician dressed her wounds, after which she was conveyed to a hospital. Now the husbands of the women are seeking each other, vowed to kill on sight.

Jeffries and Ruhlin.

St. Louis, March 4.—Billy Madden, Gus Ruhlin's manager, to-day arranged another match between his protege and James J. Jeffries, the heavyweight champion. Madden agreed to allow Jeffries to select the date for the contest, and the club offering the best inducements will get the match.

Democratic Ward Nominations.

The democratic nominating committee of the Eighth ward last night nominated the following ward ticket: For alderman, George R. Rotman; for councilmen, George D. Merrick, Frederick Hessler and John T. Carr.

The democrats of the Eleventh ward have renominated Alderman George Wallace.

To Investigate Wireless Telegraphy.

Washington, April 4.—Secretary Long has appointed a special board of naval officers to make a thorough enquiry into the subject of wireless telegraphy. The Marconi system and all others which may be available for naval uses will be considered.

ALL DANGER OF INFECTION

FROM TYPHOID FEVER CUTOFF AT ITS SOURCE

As Result of Investigations by Health Officer Wright—Epidemic Now Numbers Between Twenty and Thirty Cases—Several More Classified as Suspects.

Simultaneous with statistics gathered last night from over a dozen physicians that there have appeared between twenty and thirty verified cases of typhoid fever in this city within the last three days came the following statement from Health Officer Wright: "I have located the source of the typhoid infection and can assure the public that there is no more danger of infection from that source." When asked if the epidemic had been caused by the recent rains which have filled the lakes with surface water, Dr. Wright said: "The Water company is not to blame. I can only say that there is no more danger."

Although the Water company has flushed the water pipes, the health officer still deems it advisable that the city water be boiled for a few days before being used for drinking purposes.

Boston, April 4.—Colonel Henry A. Thomas, a former postmaster of Boston, died at McLean hospital, Waverley, to-night.

DRI-GOODS COMBINATION.

John Claffin Said to be Planning an Executive Union System.

New York, April 4.—John Claffin, president of the H. B. Claffin company, would say nothing one way or another to-day in regard to the report published in a morning paper that he, in his individual and private capacity, was interested in a plan for establishing a system of high class retail stores in this city and eventually throughout the country.

Useful Men Pass Away.

Philadelphia, April 4.—William R. Warner, a widely known manufacturing chemist, died in this city yesterday. Mr. Warner was the first man to manufacture sugar coated pills and to introduce licorice tablets. He was a distant relative of George Washington, and his art collection included over one hundred portraits of Washington.

Marshall, Mich., April 4.—Rev. Dr. George F. Huntington, one of the best known Presbyterian ministers in the country, died at his home here to-day, of paralysis, after two years of failing health. He was formerly president of Alma college, at Alma, Mich.

Philadelphia, April 4.—Professor Francis Aristides Jackson, the oldest teacher in point of service in the University of Pennsylvania, died to-day at his home in Overbrook, a suburb, aged seventy-five years.

Boston, April 4.—Colonel Henry A. Thomas, a former postmaster of Boston, died at McLean hospital, Waverley, to-night.

ASSURANCES TO THE CUBANS

GOV. GEN. HOOD CONFERS WITH CONSTITUTIONAL DELEGATES.

The Platt Amendment Discussed—Gen. Wood Declares the United States Intends Dealing Justly and Honestly by the Cubans—Has No Desire to Retain Possession of the Island.

Havana, April 4.—The so-called radical element in the Cuban constitutional convention, including Senor Joan Gomez, Portuendo, Aleman and Manduley, had a conference to-day with Governor General Wood regarding the Platt amendment.

General Wood said that the United States government intended to deal justly and honestly by the Cubans and had no desire to retain possession of the island.

The accident happened at about 9:15 p. m., as the steamer was feeling her way out from Providence, but it was several hours before the news was received in this city. At first it was thought that the steamer could release herself, as she was proceeding at slow speed, but after several trials with reversing engines, it appeared that the efforts were useless, and two of the Chapman's officers started in a small boat for Warwick Neck lighthouse on the west shore of the bay below Rocky Point. Keeper McCann of the lighthouse assisted the officers to communicate with the city by means of a telephone at Warwick station.

As soon as the accident became known, here tugs were sent to the stranded vessel, and the passengers were removed and forwarded on their journey to New York by rail. Arrangements have been made to undertake the work of floating the steamer to-day. Tugs were at work on her during the night, but were unable to move her.

The tugs took positions on either side of the Chapman, and for several hours strained and pulled on the stranded craft in an effort to move her, but all efforts were fruitless.

When it was seen that the steamer would be delayed for some time, the passengers, who had suffered no discomfort, and who had shown no evidence of disturbance by their experience, were informed that they would be taken off. They were transferred to the Bay Queen, and were brought to this city.

A special train was made up as speedily as possible, and the interrupted travelers started for New York by rail this morning.

Arrangements have been made for a large fleet of tugs to work on the steamer to-day.

RUSSIA SHOWS HER TEETH

OFFICIAL STATEMENT REGARDING THE MANCHURIAN TREATY.

Charges That Its Failure Was Due to Alarmist Rumors and Falsified Texts Circulated in Foreign Press to Stir Up Feeling Against Her—Declares the Convention Was to Serve as Basis for Restoring Province to China—Her Troops Now to Remain Until Such Time as She Sees Fit to Withdraw Them, but Promises Faithful Adherence to Her Old-Repeated Political Programme.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—The Official Messenger to-day publishes a detailed report of the negotiations conducted by the allied powers with the Chinese plenipotentiaries at Tien Tsin and Peiping, and of the negotiations that led to the presentation of the French draft of peace conditions, which consisted of twelve points, but which are not yet concluded. The Russian government then makes the following statement:

"While anticipating an early settlement of the questions affecting the mutual relations between all the powers and China, the Russian government, on its part, considered it necessary to concern itself with the establishment of a permanent order of things in the Chinese territories along the borders of which the Russian Asiatic possessions extend for a distance of eight thousand versts, (5,300 miles). To this end, provisional written conditions for a modus vivendi were agreed upon first between the Russian military authorities and the Chinese governors of three Manchurian provinces.

"With reference to the institution of a local civil administration subsequently, and after a careful consideration of all the circumstances, the Russian government drew up the draft of a special agreement with China, providing for the gradual evacuation of Manchuria, as well as for the adoption of provisional measures to assure peace in that territory and to prevent the recurrence of events similar to those of last year. Unfortunately, with the object of stirring up public opinion against Russia, alarmist rumors were circulated in the foreign press regarding the purpose and intentions of the Russian government. Falsified texts of a treaty, establishing a protectorate over Manchuria were quoted, and erroneous reports were designedly spread of an alleged agreement between Russia and China. As a matter of course, the Russian government has taken steps to meet the situation, and has issued a statement to the effect that the Russian government has no intention of establishing a protectorate over Manchuria, and that the reports of such an agreement are entirely unfounded."

JAPAN THREATENS RUSSIA.

A Remonstrance That Amounts Almost to an Ultimatum.

London, April 6.—"Russia's reply concerning Manchuria being unsatisfactory the Japanese government has decided," says the Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring Thursday, "after a conference with the heads of the army and navy, and of the departments of finance and foreign affairs, to address a second and more peremptory remonstrance demanding a reply within a stated period. This remonstrance, communicated through the Japanese minister in St. Petersburg, almost amounts to an ultimatum."

London, April 6.—"Japan is taking measures with a view to hostilities with Russia," says the Pekin correspondent of the Daily Express. "She has entered into an arrangement with Liu Kun Yi, viceroy of Nankin, who is acting on behalf of the other friendly viceroys and governors, regarding the course they will pursue in the way of aiding Japan against Russia. It is understood that they have promised to place the telegraphic communications and transport facilities at the service of Japan."

HENLEY REGATTA PROJECT.

A Conference Held in New London Yesterday.

New London, April 5.—As an outcome of a conference held here to-day between Mr. Henderson, of Boston, chairman of the American Henley committee, and F. E. Chappell, chairman of the local regatta board, it seems probable that the American Henley will be an assured fact for the coming season, and races will be held at New London for two days of the same week in which the university crews row here. Mr. Henderson's visit here was mainly to ascertain what the board of trade would do to further the plan, and he was told by Mr. Chappell that the local board would fix the course, have it properly policed and would give the Henley contestants practically the same concessions that the other crews usually obtain.

Southington, April 5.—The annual convention of the Advent Christian Sunday School association was held here to-day in the Gospel Mission church. About 150 delegates were present. Henry Stevens, of Wallingford, presided. A number of papers were read, after which the election of officers took place. All the officers of last year were re-elected.

TRAIN MEN FIGHT TRAMPS.

Three New Haven Boys Arrested in Milford—Five Others Escape.

Hartford, Conn., April 5.—An encounter of a serious nature took place near this town between a gang of eight tramps who were stealing a ride on the eastbound "pier" freight train, and the train's crew shortly after 6 o'clock to-night. The tramps were discovered on the bumper and the train was stopped. A fight ensued in which several shots were fired by the tramps, but no one was injured. Finally they took to the woods in the vicinity of the Milford cemetery. The local police were notified and at 8 o'clock Sheriff Mallory, on information received from persons coming from New Haven by road, drove in the direction of the latter city, and met eight men who answered the description given. Five of them ran into the bushes and escaped, and the other three, who were barely more than boys, gave their names as Joseph Ross, 71 Hill street; Frank McDonald, 157 Ashmun street, and Michael Frank, 106 Putnam street, all of New Haven. The boys disclaim knowledge of the fight with the train crew, stating that they were walking to New Haven and met the five others on the road. Later in the evening they were taken before a justice of the peace and positively identified by members of the train crew as belonging to the gang on the train. The boys then confessed, giving the names of a number of others for whom the police are now looking. Their cases were continued until to-morrow.

TO UNITE ALL RAILROADS

REPORTS THAT HUGE COMBINATIONS ARE FORMING.

Their Object, it is Laid, is to Bring All the Big Systems of the Country Under the Control of One Company—Details of the Scheme and Its Objects—Names of Prominent Men Connected With It.

New York, April 5.—Reports that huge railroad combinations are in process of formulation were widely circulated here to-day. Detailed statements concerning the plan look to the combination of all the great railroad systems of the United States under the control of one company. As a general thing, prominent railroad officials and bankers decline to discuss the matter.

According to all accounts, the enterprise involves the greatest combination of capital known in the history of finance. It was said the company would be formed under the laws of New Jersey for the purpose of conducting a general freight and transportation business throughout the United States; that the company will hold controlling interest in all of the great railroad systems in the country.

CHANGES BY ERIE ROAD.

Official Statement That F. D. Underwood Will Be President.

New York, April 5.—The first official confirmation of the selection of F. D. Underwood, of the Baltimore and Ohio, as president of the Erie Railroad company, was contained to-day in the announcement sent out from the Erie office. It follows:

"On and after May 1 the following changes will be made in the organization of the Erie Railroad company:

"E. B. Thomas, now president, is to be elected chairman of the board of the Erie Railroad company, and will continue in direct charge of all its business affairs.

"F. D. Underwood will be elected president of the company, and is to have immediate charge of the traffic and operation of the company's lines."

ANSONIA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Report That It is to Be Absorbed by Southern New England.

Ansonia, April 5.—It is reported to-night on good authority that the Ansonia Telephone company is shortly to be absorbed by the Southern New England company and that several of the largest stockholders in the local concern have already disposed of their holdings to the other corporation. The statement is received with much interest inasmuch as the absorption of the Ansonia Telephone company would be a death blow to the contemplated plan for joining the various independent lines extending through the Naugatuck valley from Milford to Winsted.

5,000 Seats Lost.

Halifax, N. S., April 5.—A dispatch from Meat Cove, C. B., light station reports that the sealing steamer Hope, of St. John's, N. F., is ashore on Bryon Island and likely to be a total loss. The steamer was caught in the ice pack a week ago and was slowly carried toward the land. The crew were saved with difficulty. There were 5,000 seats on board.

TYPHOID CASES MULTIPLY

NEW ONES NEARLY ALL LOCATED IN TENTH WARD.

Over Seventy-five Now Suffering From the Infection—New Typhoid Ward Fitted Up at Hospital and Has Sixteen Patients—Causes of Infection Absently Removed.

The germs of typhoid fever which have infected certain portions of the city's water supply up to Thursday night are revealing themselves in a way which would at least be alarming were it not for the speedy action which the health authorities have taken in locating and cutting off the cause of the infection. From but fifteen physicians who were interviewed last night there were reported an aggregate of seventy-one cases of typhoid, most of which have been verified. It is safe to say that the cases amount to a much higher number than this, without considering the fact that there are doubtless many other cases in a state of incubation. Dr. Archibald McNeill, the bacteriologist of the board of health, said last night that he had made twenty-six examinations of suspected cases during the day, verifying nearly every one of them. He said that there must be between seventy-five and a hundred cases in the city.

The cases which are now rapidly multiplying are almost all in the Tenth ward. This part of the city, it is said, has been supplied from a large reservoir near Bethany. It has been learned that there were cases of typhoid of a serious nature on a farm in the neighborhood of this reservoir, and physicians in the infected portion of the city who were interviewed last night say that probably care was not taken by the family to prevent a spread of the disease. The germs, it is reported, during the late heavy rains were washed down a slope into the reservoir.

Health Officer Wright, who determined the nature of the epidemic at its inception and succeeded at once in locating it at its source, deserves the highest commendation. His prompt and efficient action has without doubt saved many lives.

As was stated yesterday, since the discovery the water company has sealed up the infected reservoir and has caused all its pipes, through which the contaminated water ran, to be thoroughly flushed with water from another source. Health Officer Wright, who was interviewed last night, said that there could be no more danger from the city water, and that any cases that may develop in the next few days can appear only among those who are already infected. Dr. Wright did not repeat his warning last night to continue boiling the city water, and it is inferred from that that the danger from germs still remaining in the water is past.

A special typhoid ward was fitted up last night at the New Haven hospital, with a corps of three nurses and an orderly. Sixteen patients have already been taken there for treatment. One of them is Nordahl N. Berg, a student in the graduate class at the Yale law school. He rooms at 19 Sylvan avenue and his home is in Decatur, Ia.

Another well known Yale student who is suffering from typhoid fever is J. Frank Flynn, who was brought to the home of his parents in Meriden on Thursday. He is a graduate student in the classical department, and recently for a time took charge of the Latin classes of Dean Henry P. Wright. Mr. Flynn is justly considered one of the finest scholars that Yale has turned out in recent years. Many friends in New Haven hope for his speedy and complete recovery.

M'CREEERY & CO. SELL OUT.

An Old New York Firm Going Out of Business.

New York, April 5.—Andrew McCreeery announced to-day the sale of the stock of the James McCreeery & Co. establishment at Broadway and 11th street, to N. Stelleberg & Co. of Philadelphia. Mr. McCreeery would not furnish for publication the details of the transaction, but said that the negotiations had been pending for several months.

From another source it was learned that the purchase does not include the building at Broadway and 11th street, which, however, has been leased by Mr. McCreeery to the Philadelphia firm for a term of years at a rental of $75,000 per annum. The stock is to be transferred at an appraised valuation by appraisers already agreed upon, who will begin their work at once. A rough estimate places its value at $2,000,000.

GEN. CLAY IN A FIGHT.

Refuses to Allow Deputies to Serve Writs—A Fusillade Follows.

St. Louis, Mo., April 5.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Valleyview, Ky., says General Cassius M. Clay today refused to admit to the famous Texas Whitehall mansion Deputy Sheriff Collier and two other deputies who had gone there from Richmond to serve a writ of delivery sent by Mary B. Clay, for furniture. A fusillade between General Clay and the deputies ensued during which fifteen shots were fired. It is not known whether any one in the Clay mansion was hurt, as neighbors fear to enter the premises. The shots fired at the deputy sheriffs was adjourned to-night.

Yale Defeats Brown at Chess.

Providence, R. I., April 5.—The annual chess tournament between Brown and Yale held in Providence during the past two days, resulted in a victory of 10 to 6 in favor of Yale. The contest was unusually close until near the end of the last round, when two of the Brown players lost through oversight.

CHAPIN NOT YET FLOATED.

A Fruitless Attempt Made Yesterday to Get Her Off.

Providence, R. I., April 5.—A fruitless attempt was made to-day to float the steamer Chester W. Chapin, which ran ashore on Palisade Island Wednesday night. The divers' examinations reveal considerable damage to the vessel's hull. She still rests in the same position as when she struck. Divers are closing up the rips in the steel hull.

STILL PRESSING THE BOERS

GEN. FRENCH'S OPERATIONS IN THE EASTERN TRANSVAAL.

All the guns of the burghers in the southeastern District now captured—Colonel Plumer Advancing toward Pietersburg, the Seat of the Boer Government—Now Twenty Miles Beyond Nylstroom.

London, April 6.—Lord Kitchener reports as follows to the war office: "Colonel Plumer has advanced twenty miles beyond Nylstroom unopposed on the way toward Pietersburg."

According to the Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Telegraph the Boers have shifted their seat of government from Pietersburg to a point thirty-five miles northeast.

The Kroonstad correspondent of the Times, writing Thursday, says that preparations are being generally made by the British forces for winter operations.

Cape Town, April 6.—General French continues to press the Boers at Vryheid, Transvaal colony. The Boers abandoned a pompon, which the British found smashed at the bottom of a precipice. Lord Kitchener, reporting to the war office the finding of an abandoned and destroyed pompon near Vryheid, says: "This accounts for all the enemy's guns known to be in the southeastern district."

Cape Town, April 6.—Five corpses of victims of the bubonic plague were found in Cape Town to-day. Seven additional cases have been officially reported, six of these being Europeans and one of the latter being a Yeoman.

Bethune, Orange River Colony, April 4.—A force of Boers under Commander Kriztner attempted to recross into the Orange River Colony to the west of here, but failed.

THE TYPHOID SITUATION.

state board of health, was seen last night in relation to the infected water which was left in the distributing pipes of the city at the time the Bethany reservoir supply was cut off. It was cut off after the people in the infected section had been warned, and as a consequence they ceased to a great extent, drawing off the infected water through their houses, refusing to use it for drinking or any other purposes. The greater portion, then, must remain in the pipes, and no one knows how the change in relative pressure caused by drawing from the waters of another reservoir may have forced this into adjacent sides of the infected district. The distributing pipes, Dr. Lindsey said, will be flushed by the company. But since so much time has elapsed as to allow the readjusting pressure from Maliby Lake to assert itself it may be difficult to accomplish this with any thoroughness.

Dr. Lindsey stated also that Westville is still necessarily supplied by the infected reservoir, the inhabitants being duly warned to kill the germs in the water by thorough boiling.

In the interview with Dr. McNeil last night questions were asked as to the longevity of the typhoid bacillus. He would not express an opinion, saying that it depended on circumstances. He would give neither a minimum nor a maximum estimate of the length of life of the germ, but said that the present condition of the city water is favorable to its growth. The drought which occurred late in the winter allowed an extraordinary amount of surface matter to accumulate, and this being followed by heavy rains, the matter was flooded into the streams so that the water now flowing in the pipes is filled with it.

This is about an fortunate condition for the multiplication of typhoid germs as could be desired.

This afternoon will be held the first official meeting of the city board of health since the epidemic broke out. It has not yet been officially informed that there has been an epidemic of typhoid fever, and Dr. Evelyn Bissell, a member of the board, yesterday, it is reported, commented on this fact, saying: "At our last meeting nothing was said to the board about the present epidemic, although I am informed now that there was a sufficient number of cases to warrant such a belief being entertained them. I don't understand it all."

Dr. Wright was asked concerning this criticism last night and said that, since the last meeting of the board was held two weeks ago and the first cases of typhoid were reported last Wednesday—he could not see how the epidemic could have been discussed at the meeting. S. E. Dibble, another member of the board, said last night that the reported criticism against Officer Wright must be an idle rumor, or at least the expression of an individual opinion. This afternoon Dr. Wright will present a full report of the epidemic to the board.

Yesterday an official report from the state board of health was published, stating that as yet no other source of infection has been discovered than that of the Bethany reservoir. The communication stated that its purpose was to deny distinctly any desire on the part of the health officials of keeping back information that the public ought to know regarding the cause and probable prevalence of the disease.

There are now twenty-six cases in the two hospitals in the city, Grace hospital having seven cases and the New Haven hospital nineteen.

TYPHOID SUSPECTS AT THE JAIL.

Two Prisoners Thought to be Victims of the Epidemic.

There are at the county jail two cases of illness which are suspected of being typhoid fever. Both the patients are prisoners, one being Stephen Donnelly, who was committed for burglary last Thursday, and the other is James Carroll, who, representing himself as leader of the McKinley drum corps, obtained subscriptions from politicians last fall. Both men have been isolated in the jail hospital.

BOARDMAN MINSTRELS.
The business manager of the Boardman minstrel show has received two letters from prominent high schools of the state asking under what conditions he could present the show for the benefit of their respective athletic associations. As the show has not yet been given here he is quite undecided about the matter.

These letters show the popularity of a good minstrel show, and no doubt the immense success with which the Boardman show was crowned last year prompted the writing of the above mentioned letters.

The entertainment is to be given on Friday, April 26, in Music hall, and everything will be done to make the affair a success. Dancing will follow the entertainment.

PATROLMEN ILL.
Among the victims of the typhoid fever epidemic are Patrolmen Kane and Stevens, both of whom were last night reported to be quite dangerously ill.

The groom is engaged with his father in business in New Britain. The happy couple have many friends and well wishers.

WALLINGFORD.

There were about fifty present at the cocking main on the east side of town Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning. The contest was between Wallingford and Southington and Kensington birds. Wallingford won but one out of six contests. There were several fights among the spectators who had to pay a dollar to see what they called sport and there was much dissatisfaction over the result.

The heavy rain of Saturday night badly washed the cycle path between Mooney's crossing and the culvert below Yalesville. In two places the entire path is swept away.

The rain gauge shows a total rainfall of 5-60-100 since last Tuesday.

The selection of Durham and Wallingford were perambulating over the dividing lines between the two towns yesterday.

The guage at Paugh pond Sunday showed 100 inches of available water, a gain of fifteen inches since a week ago.

MISS PRINNT

Marie Dressler Scores Another Success.

The audience at the Hyperion last night found a good deal of pleasure in the comparison that was constantly and unconsciously arising between May Irwin and Marie Dressler. And in the language of Eaton Space, the sporting editor of the paper which figured in the play, Miss Dressler "stood pat" with her new songs. Very little can be said of Miss Prinnt as a play—other than it kept Miss Dressler to the front most of the time responding to the very vigorous encores to "Rufus Don't Tease Me" and "I'm a Lookin' For a Angel." These songs were unmistakably good and gave Miss Dressler an opportunity appreciated by the audience to show her facile gynastics and her agility—though Mr. Space would not class her as a featherweight. But the presentation last night was also interesting as presenting to New Haven for the first time a very charming actress in the person of Miss Charlotte Walker. Miss Walker is a southern girl about whose heroism in the terrible Galveston flood the press of the country has given a good deal of space. She took the part recently played by Miss Nettie Black and her portrayal of the ultra-aristocratic leader of society was received with marked evidences of favor. William Sybell, as sport editor, kept the audience in unmixed amazement and amusement by his flow of sporting phrases. Benjamin Howard acted with a good deal of grace where grace was difficult. But the most that could be said of the chorus is that it was pretty.

paid to the Diocese of Connecticut.

CREATED GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

The Presentation of "King Washington" in Middletown Last Night.

Meriden, April 8.—The first presentation on any stage of Robert Lewis Weede's dramatization of the novel "King Washington" was observed tonight at the Delavan opera house before an audience that tested the capacity of the house. From five to twelve curtain calls characterized the performance, and such scenes of enthusiasm have been rarely witnessed by local audiences.

Many prominent managers were in the audience from New York. This play will be seen at the Hyperion theater in New Haven Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

M. P. Rice has purchased the residence of Thomas P. Carney on Rogers street, Branford. The house, which was built about two years ago by Contractor Hosley, is one of the prettiest places in the town.

The Hawthorn club of West Haven will meet this Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George Richards on Richard place, Charles Worden of Court street, West Haven, has returned home from his western business trip.

Rheumatic Pains.

It is always the weakest part that first gives way to the attacks of disease. So, when the weakened stomach and deranged digestion shut off the supply of nourishment, the overworked nerves lose their resistive power and fall easy victims to colds and exposures. Repair the nervous forces, increase the vitality, and rheumatism, neuralgia and sciatica will be quickly exchanged for renewed health and strength.

"Muscular rheumatism and nervousness kept me awake nights and I did not sleep more than one hour in twenty-four for the pain in my legs. Doctor's medicine did me no good and I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine. After taking a few doses I began to improve, and at the end of a week could sleep as well as ever. I have not had an attack in five years."

ANNUAL SARSFIELD BALL

WAS HELD AT THE ARMORY LAST NIGHT.

It was a Grand Success and Was Attended by Over 500 People—Governor McLean and Staff Present—The Military March a Feature—Prominent People Present.

The twenty-fifth annual ball of the Sarsfield guard, Company C, Second regiment, was held in the armory last night and was, without a doubt, the most successful one ever given by that popular company and that is saying a great deal. The decorations were in green and white and were in pattern very much on the line of the decorations used at the Yale Junior promenade. The entire ceiling and sides of the vast armory were covered with cheescloth of these colors and the festooning gave the ball room a beautiful effect. Draperies were hung behind each box and the entire appearance of the interior of the armory was beautiful. Nearly all of the officers of the Second regiment were there in their full dress uniform. Governor McLean and his staff were there and there were visiting guests present from all over the state. The military representation was one of the most complete that has ever attended social function in New Haven and the members of the Sarsfield guard should feel proud of the fact that such a large number of prominent men were at the ball.

The grand military march just previous to the ball was one of the features of the evening. At precisely 9 o'clock the governor and his staff emerged from the room of the Governor's Foot guard and to the tune of "Hall to the Chief" they marched across the armory to the governor's box where they formed for the military march. This march was led by Governor McLean and Captain Donovan, of the Sarsfield guard, together with Adjutant General Cole and Lieutenant Laffin. They were followed by the members of the governor's staff accompanied by Colonel Sucher, accompanied by his staff. The Second regiment band played for the state military leaders while they marched about the armory in four and when they reached certain points designated by guides they formed in various figures and made a beautiful appearance. Finally they formed in lines of sixteen and to the tune of "Hall Columbia" they marched around to the governor's box, where they remained during the evening. The whole effect was very pretty and was watched by fully 500 people and at the conclusion of the march great applause rang out from the onlookers. In the march of the guests there were fully 300 couples and when this was over at 9:45 the ball opened with a spirited two-step "Semper Fidelis." From then on until after 4 o'clock this morning the dancing continued. There was an intermission of two hours, during which time a delightful luncheon was served.

Governor McLean was obliged to leave the armory about 10:30, but the members of his staff that were there remained until the ball was over. In the guest's box, which was one of the most attractive of any on the floor, were Colonel and Mrs. M. Ullman, Colonel and Mrs. Woodruff, Sheriff Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Poll, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Rose Wrin, Superintendent Wrin, Judge Studley, Major Driscoll, Miss Driscoll, Postmaster and Mrs. Allen, of Middlefield, George B. THE SIXTY TYPHOID CASES

REPORTED YESTERDAY DATE BACK SEVERAL DAYS.

Cases Covering the Last Three Days Are Not Yet Reported—Meeting of the Board of Health—Report from Dr. Wright—Water Company Notified to Let Dawson Water Stand in Reservoir a Month and Then Drain Off—Yale Authorities May Soon Act.

Up to five o'clock yesterday afternoon the recorded number of typhoid cases in New Haven was 211. It was learned last night that this number does not by any means represent the present status of the epidemic. The infection now extends severely through the Second, Third, Fourth, Ninth and Tenth wards, which have all been supplied with the Dawson water. It is impossible to estimate the number of cases now prevailing, because the reports received at the office of the board of health are not reports of new cases. A statement of Officer Wright printed yesterday morning to the effect that a large number of cases reported Monday dated back several days to the time when the infection broke out, is emphatically true, and although the information did not leak out through that source, it was not denied last night by the health officer that the more than sixty cases reported yesterday also dated back to several days ago. The cases which have developed since last Thursday or Friday had not yet been reported.

At the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon remarks were thrown out that in the light of the above discovery appear ominous. It was stated that many cases of typhoid are serious and many deaths are to be expected. Dr. Fleischner in describing symptoms said that the patients have a high temperature, often at the first visit running up to 104 or 105. An ugly fact mentioned was that children are rapidly becoming victims to the infection. An evening paper last night stated that 50,000 people occupy the infected district, and since the younger element forms a large majority of this number it is not reassuring to know that they are specially liable to the infection. The disease is rarely contracted by adults over fifty years old. It was also stated in the meeting that, since the period of incubation of the disease varies from a few days to three weeks, it could not be expected that new cases of typhoid would cease coming in during the next two weeks. FRANCE GREATLY PLEASED.
The Unexpected Return of Russian Squadron to Faute Loubet.

Paris, April 9.—The unexpected return of the Russian squadron dwarfed all other events in the programme at Nice to-day. The news is on the lips of every one in Paris and joy is expressed by both the public and the press. The intensity of this gratification shows that great numbers of Frenchmen had treated with skepticism the explanation that the withdrawal of the squadron was simply due to a desire not to be politically identified with the Franco-Italian demonstration.

It appears that Admiral Birlleff yesterday disembarked at Barcelona, and was summoned to the Russian legation at Madrid, where a dispatch from the czar was communicated to him instructing him to return to the Riviera and salute President Loubet. Admiral Birlleff immediately telegraphed to Barcelona, ordering the Russian squadron to get up steam, and on his return there at 7 o'clock last evening the squadron sailed for Villefrance, which almost joins Nice, and where the Russian ships will be able to participate in the ceremony of the embarkation and departure of President Loubet on board the turreted ship St. Louis for Toulon without their presence constituting a political share of the Franco-Italian demonstration.

Nice, April 9.—President Loubet and M. Delassus received Admiral Birlleff and four other Russian naval officers who had disembarked at Villefrance. At the banquet this evening in honor of the Russian officers M. Loubet proposed the health of the czar. He said the health of the czar, "who in sending us your bith to salute the president of the French republic has proved once more the constancy of his sentiment for a friendly allied nation."

RUSSIAN BREAK WITH CHINA.
The Refusal to Negotiate Further With the Envys.

Pekin, April 9.—The Russian minister to China, M. de Giers, responding to the letter from Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang regarding Manchuria, merely refuses to hold further communication with them upon the subject.

Chinese general Tung Fu Shan says the emperor brought the rebellion upon his own head when he published the edict threatening the general with future punishment. Tung Fu Shan has the entire Mohammedan population with him; Prince Tuan has a large following, while Prince Olskan controls the entire province of Mongolia.

Shanghai, April 9.—The Yang Tsze viceroys and governors have forwarded a memorial to the throne suggesting certain reforms. These reforms suggest, among other things, that the royal princes and students of good family should travel and study in foreign countries; that the entire army be drilled by western methods; that colleges and schools be extended, and that a standard dollar currency be adopted.

London, April 10.—"Russia has now changed her tactics," says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Tokio, "and is making desperate efforts to secure not only Japan's neutrality, but her benevolent assistance toward Russia's far eastern schemes."

BRITISH SUCCESS AND DEFEAT.
Lord Kitchener Reports Captives by Both Sides.

London, April 9.—General Kitchener, reporting to the war office under yesterday's date, says that a detachment of 100 men of the Fifth Lancers and Imperial Yeomanry were attacked by 400 Boers to the northward of Aberdeen, Cape Colony, and that after several hours' fighting the British were surrounded and captured, with the exception of twenty-five, who succeeded in making their escape. Lord Kitchener also telegraphs:

"Plumer has occupied Pietersburg with slight opposition. He captured two locomotives and thirty-nine trucks.

"He took sixty prisoners, capturing a seven pounder and destroying 210,000 cartridges, 1,000 rounds of seven-pounder ammunition and a considerable amount of powder and dynamite."

The capture of Pietersburg is regarded here as important. The place is the terminus of the railway, and has been the capital of the Boer government since the evacuation of Pretoria. The whole Northern railway is now in the hands of the British.

According to Lord Kitchener's dispatch only one officer and one man were killed. The Boers evacuated the town during the ninth prior to Plumer's arrival, after blowing up two trucks laden with ammunition.

Lord Kitchener further reports the capture of sixteen prisoners, fifty horses, and the depot of war stores at Boshkamp, Orange River Colony.

Says Kruger is Coming.

Paris, April 10.—Le Rappel, which has already published several remarkable statements as to the plans of Mr. Kruger, displays the following dispatch from The Hague this morning: "Mr. Kruger's departure for the United States has been fixed for May 31. He will lecture in Tammany hall about June 3, as the guest of the democratic party."

THREE GOLD BARS STOLEN.

Taken from Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.—Worth $3,000 Each.

Cherbourg, France, April 9.—On the arrival here to-day of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Captain Engelhart, from New York, April 2, it was announced that three gold bars worth £4,000 each, had been stolen during the voyage. All the baggage landed here was examined with the utmost care by the customs officers and detectives, but the gold was not discovered. One hundred and fifty passengers landed for Paris and several detectives traveled in the special train with them.

On the arrival of the steamer train from Cherbourg it was ascertained that the robbery was discovered when the last passengers on board were about to land. Thus far the affair is shrouded in mystery, in spite of the activity of the detectives in examining the baggage. The search in Paris brought no better results than in Cherbourg.

NEW ENGLAND FLOODS.

Only Discouraging Feature the Prospect of More Rain.

Boston, April 9.—The weather man-to-night promised rain for to-morrow, and that is the only discouraging feature of the flood conditions throughout New England, which had steadily improved all day. Everywhere, nearly, the river and lake reports were, that the height of water was at a standstill or was receding. At Nashua, N. H., the Nashua Manufacturing company, which could not operate yesterday, resumed work this afternoon, and at other points on the Merrimack river the fear of additional damage was over. The high water to-day continued to make serious inroads in the log harvest on Maine rivers, and it may for several days to come, as the ice and snow is fairly on the move in northern Maine. It will take a good heavy rain to bring about the condition of Sunday and yesterday. The Canadian Pacific railroad offices at St. John to-night gave out the statement that the line between St. John and Matamakong is open for traffic. The Montreal and Boston train also reached St. John. Trains will run through from Bangor to St. John by morning.

THE CUBAN CONVENTION.

A Commission to be Appointed to go to Washington.

Havana, April 9.—The Cuban constitutional convention to-day formally reconsidered the vote against sending a commission to Washington, the final vote standing twenty in favor of re-consideration to eight opposed. The programme now is to appoint a commission of five who shall in the first instance wait upon Governor General Wood, discuss the situation with him and ask his advice regarding the procedure necessary in the present case at Washington.

Foreign Notes.

London, April 9.—Referring to the policy of the new Russian minister of public construction, General Vannovsky, the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "General Vannovsky has lost no time in exercising clemency, but has already issued an edict and clearly three students. It is expected that he will introduce drastic reforms."

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Election in New Britain—Sad Accident to a Child.

New Britain, April 9.—The only feature of interest in to-day's city election of two aldermen and eight councilmen was the complete defeat of the socialists, who last year materially cut into the wards usually democratic. To-day every socialist candidate was defeated and the democrats returned to their former strength. The make-up of the city government for the next year will be twenty-two republicans and eight democrats.

THE SIXTY TYPHOID CASES

that time the secondary cases which invariably appear resulting from carelessness of attendants are expected.

The question of germs still remaining in the city water has not yet wholly been answered, although Officer Wright's statement in his report to the board yesterday seems convincing. He said that the next day after the Dawson supply was cut off the pipes in the city containing water from this source were blown off. Opposed to this is the statement made by Dr. Lindsey on Monday evening that the distributing pipes in the city had yet to be flushed by the company. No information can be got from citizens in the infected district that the hydrants were opened at the time or that they were directed to let the faucets run in their houses. If the infected water was not flushed out at once the new pressure from another reservoir may have sent it to another part of the city. There seems to be some confusion in the minds of the officials as to whether, when the company flushed the main pipes leading from the reservoir, they also attended to the distributing pipes in the infected streets of the city.

An important move of the officials yesterday was their notification to the Water company to let the water now in Lake Dawson stand for at least a month for the germs to die out, and to then draw it off and fill the lake with fresh water. Lake Dawson has been supplying a part of the community in Westville, which, it seems, will now have to dispense with city water until the month is over.

In view of a protracted siege against the epidemic, a large question which now looms up is what action the authorities at Yale will take in the matter.

Health Officer Wright said last night that, personally, if he had a son at Yale, who was at present out of the city
he would do his best to keep him away.

Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., secretary of the corporation, has been out of town until yesterday, and when seen last night said that he had not yet had time for proper investigation into the matter.

On March 11 came the first heavy
rainfall, and a few days later the second. Just when this fecal matter was washed away is only a conjecture, but that it was evidenced by the fact that the surface of the ground all around in the vicinity of the place
where the discharges had been buried
had been excavated by the heavy rains,
having furrows from three to six inches deep, leading to the edge of the waterway, through which water could only escape in a direction leading directly to Lake Dawson.

Fortunately I was able to observe how large a quantity of water sometimes goes down this course, as it was raining heavily while I was there, and a stream several feet wide was running violently past at the time.

Upon my return home at about 5:30
p. m. I notified the secretary of the Water company that I believed I had located the source of the infection, and that evening, by request, met the president, secretary and Dr. H. E. Smith, the chemical expert of the Water company, and laid the facts as above stated before them, with the result that in my presence and without a protest the water from the lake was ordered shut off from the supply pipes and the waste gates opened.

The next day the pipes in the city
containing water from this source were blown off. The only water from this lake now used is in about twenty houses in Westville, where it is impossible to supply other water, and the occupants of these houses have been warned of the danger of using this water without boiling. Within twenty-four hours of the first evidence of a serious outbreak of typhoid the source of the infection had been to my mind, definitely located, and steps had been taken to prevent further infection from this source.

Three more typhoid patients were received at New Haven's hospital yesterday, making the total number of patients there now 11 of typhoid fever twenty-two. It was stated at the hospital last night that some of the typhoid patients were quite sick, but that none of the cases was yet considered dangerous.

One more typhoid patient was received at Grace hospital yesterday, making the total number now there suffering with that disease eight. None is dangerously ill.

REPORT OF HEALTH OFFICER.

Dr. Wright Renders Account of Origin of the Epidemic.

Following is the report rendered by Health Officer Wright at the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon. It was unanimously approved and accepted, and the board adopted the recommendation of the health officer to notify the Water company that water from Lake Dawson cannot be supplied to consumers within the limits of New Haven until the water now in the lake has stood for at least one month and then drawn off and the lake filled with fresh water. Another resolution was passed asking the state board of health to cooperate with the city board in its investigation of the present epidemic.

The health officer's report is as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Board of Health:

I beg leave to call your attention to a number of cases of typhoid fever however prevailing in New Haven and lay before you a full report of the situation.

On the morning of April 3 (last Wednesday) six cases of this disease were reported by two physicians, each reporting three cases. While this number is unusual for this season of the year, there seemed to be nothing to attract special attention, but during the latter part of the day repeated inquiries by physicians and the fact that an unusual number of blood specimens had been sent to the bacteriologist to have the Widals test applied excited my suspicion that we were on the verge of an outbreak of this disease. This was increased at a meeting of the New Haven Medical association held the same evening, when many physicians stated that they were in attendance upon persons whom they suspected to be ill with the disease. The next morning
I came to this office very early that I might find if more cases had been reported, and found eight new cases.

The location of these cases and conversations by telephone with several physicians led me at once to believe the trouble was in the water supply, as all of the cases were in the western part of the city, extending north and east as far as Dixwell avenue and south and west as far as Congress and Howard avenues.

My next move was to telephone those physicians residing in the adjoining town whom I knew to be practicing in the vicinity of the storage lakes and along the streams leading to the same.

Several cases were learned of in this way in different localities, but the only ones that could be regarded as likely to cause the outbreak were those happening in a German family living in Woodbridge, near the Bethany line and nearly a mile above Lake Dawson.

I at once consulted with Mr. Daggett,
the secretary of the New Haven Water company and ascertained that the western part of the city was wholly supplied with water from this lake, and that the parts extending north and south to the lines above given, were partially supplied from the same service, the quantity and distance depending upon the pressure in the pipes of the water from other lakes.

I immediately made an appointment with the physician who had been in attendance upon the Woodbridge cases, to visit the family. I wished him to accompany me as I believed the people would talk more freely in his presence.
As soon as possible we drove out to the place which is about eight or nine miles from the city. I found that there had been three persons sick with typhoid fever in the house. They had called the doctor to the first case January 27, and he had made but a few visits.

On March 4 he had been again called and this time he found two more sick.
He instructed the head of the family to bury the fecal discharges, and in carrying out the instructions the man had taken them several hundred feet from the house and buried them with leaves and stones, etc. After this he had walked around the ground distributed over an area of at least a hundred feet square and within fifty to a hundred feet of a dry waterway. All of this was told to me in the presence of the physician and I believe the same to be true.

The next day I am told by the officials of the water company, when four or five of them visited him, he said that he had buried the discharges in a very circumscribed area, and at a depth of two feet. This is at variance with his statements to me, and seems hardly probable as there was more or less frost in the ground and the amount of care necessary to do this is not consistent with the general appearance of the premises.

On March 11 came the first heavy
rainfall, and a few days later the second. Just when this fecal matter was washed away is only a conjecture, but
that it was evidenced by the fact
that the surface of the ground all
around in the vicinity of the place
where the discharges had been buried
had been excavated by the heavy rains,

VOL. LXVII. NO. 86. PRICE THREE CENTS.

REOPENED BY GEN. BOTHA

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE AGAIN
UNDER WAY.

Boer Commander-in-Chief's Action Determined in Part by Gen. De Wet's Condition—Disclosed at a Recent Meeting That the Brilliant Guerrilla Leader's Intellect Had Weakened.

Cape Town, April 10.—General Botha has reopened negotiations with the British for peace. As explained here, this action was determined in part by General Botha's discovery at a recent meeting that General De Wet's intellect had weakened and that his influence with his followers was diminishing, and that a continuance of the campaign, in view of General De Wet's irresponsibility, rested with General Botha alone.

It is understood here that, although General De Wet at his recent interview with General Botha refused to surrender, General Botha, regarding him as irresponsible, undertakes to negotiate in behalf of the entire Boer forces. The British authorities here consider that if General Botha surrenders De Wet's following can be easily taken.

MARRIED IN BRIDGEPORT.

Attorney Charles H. Hayden of This City Weds His Stenographer.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 10.—Attorney Charles H. Hayden of New Haven was married this afternoon to his stenographer, Ada R. Leete.

Mr. Hayden some time ago was attorney for Mrs. Leete in a suit for divorce, which she brought against her husband, Frank Leete. The divorce was granted and since then Mrs. Leete had been employed as a stenographer in Mrs. Hayden's office.

RUSSIAN DEMANDS ON CHINA

RETURN OF ALL PAPERS ON MANCHURIA ASKED.

Dr. Morrison Says M. de Giers Has Warned Li Hung Chang That He Can No Longer Count on Russia's Friendship—The Necessity of the Withdrawal of Troops Potently Out.

London, April 11.—"It is semi-officially asserted here," says the Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, "that General Botha has had another interview with Lord Kitchener in which he informed him that he had seen General De Wet, who still refused to entertain the idea of surrender on any terms. General Botha, however, regards De Wet as no longer responsible for his actions and seeks a modus vivendi on behalf of all the burgher forces."

FRANCO-ITALIAN FESTIVITIES.

Double Naval Demonstration—Russia Squadron Salutes Loubet.

Paris, April 10.—The important festivities attending President Loubet's visit to the Riviera were brought to a climax to-day in the double naval demonstration at Ville Franche and Toulon. Both proved splendid spectacles. The profuse decoration at Toulon, the flotillas of pleasure boats flitting about the harbor, the gayly decorated warships lying in the roadstead and the animation of the immense crowds of strangers jostling one another in the streets and along the wharves imparted a color and picturesqueness to the scene which out-vied the situation at Ville Franche.

The French people, however, derived as much pleasure from the incidents at Ville Franche as from the meeting of M. Loubet and the Duke of Genoa at Toulon.

M. Loubet fully appreciated the value of the French set word "ally" in connection with the relations of France to Russia, and he again took an opportunity to pronounce it on board the Alexander II this morning. When accepting tea from Admiral Birleff, he said: "I am very much pleased that his majesty, the emperor, has sent a squadron to salute the president of the French republic. I am very grateful for this mark of sympathy; and I raise my glass to the health of their majesties, the emperor and empress, and to the friendly and allied Russian nation and to the prosperity of the Russian navy."

The ceremony of decorating Admiral Birleff with the cross of the legion of honor was performed in the presence of the whole crew. M. Loubet then embraced the admiral and expressed regret that the previously fixed hour for his arrival at Toulon prevented him making a detailed inspection of the Russian flagship.

All the officers of the flagship were presented to M. Loubet, who shook hands with them all. The Alexander II was the first to fire a parting salute as the St. Louis steamed out of the bay and the crews manned the Russian warships when the St. Louis passed, shouting seven times "Vive la République" or raising seven hurrahs. Simultaneously the trumpets blared and there was great beating of drums. The general programme at Toulon was carried out without a hitch. The Duke of Genoa, the Italian officials and sailors met with a flattering welcome, the French seamen fraternizing with the Italians on shore. Every desire was shown on both sides to cultivate a mutual good feeling.

MRS. HALL CONTINUES FIGHT

BRINGS ACTION IN CONNECTICUT AND NEW YORK.

Seeks to Enjoin the Temporary Administrators in Both States from Interfering With the Management of Gilman's Company—Claims to be the Adopted Daughter of Gilman—Estimated Estate at $1,500,000.

Hartford, Conn., April 10.—Mrs. Helen Hall this afternoon began action in the United States court for the recovery of her alleged share of the fortune of the late George F. Gilman of Bridgeport, the tea merchant. Mrs. Hall in her declaration claims that she is the adopted daughter of Mr. Gilman, that she lived with him as such, that he treated her as such and she always considered herself as such. She estimates the value of the estate at $1,500,000. The bill of complaint contains twenty-one pages of typewritten matter and seventeen counts. The complainant says Mr. Gilman was engaged in business of selling tea and groceries at retail in partnership with George H. Hartford, under the name of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, and that he had about 200 stores in different states in the United States.

The complainant describes the Connecticut property of Gilman, both real and personal. She claims that the property came into her possession at the time of Gilman's decease and so remained until she was forcibly ousted therefrom by the defendant.

The complainant states that several years prior to Gilman's death (Gilman) having conceived a strong personal regard for her adopted her as his daughter; that she became a member of his household and resided there after, receiving from him the support and affection of a father, managing his household and rendering to him the obedience of a natural daughter. The complainant further states that Gilman on or about November 1, 1900, agreed that she would have all the property when he died. The names of the nearest living relatives of Gilman are mentioned. The complainant states that none of the relatives lived on intimate terms with Gilman, but on the contrary, had for many years been estranged from him and many of them were hostile to him; that Gilman failed to make a will and died intestate; that relatives who brought proceedings in the probate court did so without serving notice on the complainant.

The complainant asks for a writ of injunction perpetually enjoining the Bridgeport Trust company as administrator of the estate from interfering with the business conducted by the Great American company; that the Bridgeport Trust company deliver to the complainant such assets as remain in its hands, in like manner as if she were the sole heir and next of kin of said intestate. A preliminary injunction is asked for restraining the company from further interference with the tea companies during the pendency of action. The writ of subpoena directed to the Trust company commanding it to appear in court and answer to the complainant is also asked for.

The complainant also asks that George W. Smith, who claims to have an interest in the estate be enjoined from maintaining the same. Hatch & Wicks of New York are also entered as co-defendants, and D. Davenport of Bridgeport of counsel for the complainant. The writ of subpoena is made returnable to the circuit court the first Monday in May.

New York, April 10.—Mrs. Helen Potts Hall, claiming to be the adopted daughter of the late George Francis Gilman, has commenced action in the supreme court here. She seeks to enjoin Theophilus Gilman and Edward L. Norton, the temporary administrators of Mr. Gilman's property in this state, the Bridgeport Trust company, as administrator for the Connecticut estate and the heirs at law, next of kin, from interfering with George H. Hartford in his management of the business of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company. The complaint is drawn by Hatch & Wicks, counsel for Mrs. Hall, and is similar in tenor to that filed in the United States circuit court at Hartford, Conn. Terrence J. McManus and C. W. Luyster were to-day appointed by Surrogate Thomas as appraisers of the estate of the late George F. Gilman, in order to assess the value of the property left by him in this state which is liable to the transfer tax.

Favorable to Amateur Boxing.

Albany, April 10.—The Brooks bill to permit amateur boxing exhibitions throughout the state will be reported favorably to-morrow by the assembly codes committee. The bill as amended last week provides for four-round contests between amateur boxers in good standing in the Amateur Athletic Union. The bill was framed so as to prevent any professional pugilist from taking advantage of it.

Linemen Threaten to Strike.

Boston, April 10.—Union linemen employed by the New England Telegraph and Telephone company as well as the Boston Electric Light company, have given notice of a strike on May 1, unless they are given an eight hour day and a pause in wages of fifty cents per day. The linemen work nine hours for $2.50 per day. The strike, if enforced, will affect more than a thousand men and it is claimed by the linemen will seriously cripple the companies.

The pool of the company's first mortgage bonds was dissolved and it was decided to retire $2,433,000 5 per cent. bonds of the Georgia and Alabama railway in July at 105 and accrued interest.

JERSEY CENTRAL'S TROUBLE.

Strong Probability That Conference May be Resumed.

New York, April 10.—There is a strong probability that the conference between the employees and officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey abandoned at the time of the fruitless intervention of the railway brotherhood chiefs may be resumed and it is believed that if the disputants get together in friendly spirit that the possibility of a strike on the line will become remote. Some of the more conservative element among the employees have declared openly that they will not vote on the strike proposition until there has been another conference with the officials and those who agree with them are moving for the appointment of a joint conference committee that will work with the grievance committee. If the movement is successful it will take shape within the next twenty-four hours.

John V. Waite, representing the engineers and Timothy Shea, representing the firemen on the board of co-operators of the different divisions of the Jersey Central employees, waited on the officials of the company at Jersey City this afternoon with proposals for another conference. After some talk it was arranged that they should hold a conference to-morrow morning. This, it is believed, shows that the men do not want a strike.

A COUNTERFEITING PLANT

SUCCESSFUL RAID MADE IN BROOKLYN YESTERDAY.

One of the Biggest in History of the United States Secret Service—Plates found for Notes on Banks of Sweden and Scotland—Discovery Brought About by an Attempted Suicide—John A. Skoog, Who Has Been Hunted High and Low, Now in Custody.

New York, April 10.—One of the biggest raids in the history of the secret service of the United States was made to-night by Chief Hazen. It was the result of the attempted suicide of "Albert Jensen," who is really John Albert Skoog, the daring and skillful counterfeiter. Chief Hazen to-day visited Skoog in the hospital and afterwards taking with him several secret service agents and followed a clue which he got from papers in Skoog's pocket he went to a building in Grand street, Brooklyn, and arrested Emil Hobert, a Swede.

One of the most complete and perfect counterfeiting plants ever found was discovered in the house. The long sought plates for the fifty kroner notes of the Bank of Sweden and the 100 kroner notes of the Bank of Copenhagen were among those found. They were buried away with other plates for the making of a £20 note of the Bank of Scotland, which it is said the entire secret service of Great Britain has been trying to run down for years.

It came to light early to-day that the man who attempted to commit suicide by twice shooting himself in the head while being pursued by a crowd in West street yesterday was not "Albert Jensen" at all, but John Albert Skoog, a Swede, thirty-five years old, born in Stockholm, Sweden, and the son of prominent and wealthy parents. He early began a criminal career, and is pronounced by officials of the United States secret service one of the most expert counterfeeters alive.

In March of 1897 Skoog escaped from the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., while serving a sentence there for making and passing counterfeit twenty dollar bills. Skoog is wanted in Sweden for making and passing a large number of counterfeit 100 kroner notes such as are issued by the bank of Sweden at Stockholm. This work was done early in 1897, Skoog having gone to Sweden at once after his escape from Joliet. These notes are about perfect in execution and bear the date of January 2, 1898.

Skoog was identified at the Hudson street hospital to-day by Chief Hazen, the means of identification being a mole on each cheek, one on the temple and two scars on the left index finger.

Skoog yesterday attempted to pass counterfeit 50 kroner notes on the bank of Copenhagen at the banking house of C. B. Richardson & Co., at 61 Broadway. The notes although dated 1897 were crisp and new. They were apparently good, however, and were accepted, Skoog being paid American money in exchange. A few moments after Skoog left another man entered and presented some similar notes. This looked suspicious and Skoog was recalled. He was, however, moving away when an official threatened to call a policeman and Skoog fled down Broadway, followed by two policemen and a crowd. When policeman Brady caught him, Skoog drew a pistol and turned it on himself, sending two bullets through his head. Should he recover, which is thought likely, it is the intention to return Skoog to Joliet.

NEW YORK EAST CONFERENCE

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND REPORTS OF PRESIDING ELDER.

Animated Discussion Over Matter of Recognition of Christian Scientist Church—One Minister Withdraws to Join That Faith—The Examinations—A Report That Dr. Adams May Be Succeeded by Dr. Johnston as Presiding Elder of the New Haven District.

New York, April 10.—The New York East conference of the Methodist Episcopal church elected officers of the conference to-day as follows: President, Bishop John Fletcher Hurst, D. D., LL. D., of Washington, D. C.; secretary, Arthur Benton Sanford, of New York city; assistant secretaries, W. E. Scoville, J. A. MacMillan and W. S. Mansfield; statistical secretaries, H. B. Munson, B. B. Brown, W. B. Schoonover, W. B. Pruner, R. S. Povey, W. H. F. Fleming, Henry Head and F. H. Sawyer; biographical secretary, Horace Weston Byrnes, of Bay Shore, L. I.; railroad secretary, Henry Blatz, Jr., of Westville, Conn.; treasurer of benevolent collections, William Perkins Estes, of Brooklyn.

New York, April 10.—The New York East conference of the Methodist Episcopal church elected officers of the conference to-day as follows: President, Bishop John Fletcher Hurst, D. D., LL. D., of Washington, D. C.; secretary, Arthur Benton Sanford, of New York city; assistant secretaries, W. E. Scoville, J. A. MacMillan and W. S. Mansfield; statistical secretaries, H. B. Munson, B. B. Brown, W. B. Schoonover, W. B. Pruner, R. S. Povey, W. H. F. Fleming, Henry Head and F. H. Sawyer; biographical secretary, Horace Weston Byrnes, of Bay Shore, L. I.; railroad secretary, Henry Blatz, Jr., of Westville, Conn.; treasurer of benevolent collections, William Perkins Estes, of Brooklyn.

Following this, the presiding elders made their report. During this a very animated discussion arose over the matter of the recognition of the Christian Scientist church. Presiding Elder James S. Chadwick, of the South Brooklyn district, presented the withdrawal of G. E. Simonson, who was the minister in charge of the Danish mission of the M. E. church in Brooklyn. Mr. Simonson in his letter of withdrawal declared his conversion to belief in the Christian Science teachings, and asked that he be given his dismissal and that his parchment be returned to him. Bishop Fitzgerald, the presiding officer, then said that he did not think that the law of the church would permit a return of the certificate to Mr. Simonson. The conference after some discussion adopted a resolution repudiating Mr. Simonson's interpretation of Christian Science and accepting his withdrawal. The certificate will not, however, be returned to Mr. Simonson.

The Rev. Joseph Pullman, presiding elder of the New York district, then read his report, after which the conference took a recess.

At the afternoon session of the New York East conference the Rev. O. F. Bartholow and Rev. George N. Werner, D. D., of New York, made addresses on the systematic training of young in view of church membership. The Rev. Benjamin M. Adams, of Bethel, Conn., and Rev. W. C. Street, D. D., of Brooklyn, followed with addresses on the same subject.

Among those who underwent examination last evening, other examinations to be held Friday, was William D. Beach, of Bridgeport, assistant pastor of the First M. E. church, New Haven, and who has received an unanimous call from the Grace M. E. church of the West End, Bridgeport.

The applicants are divided into four classes, representing four years of study. Mr. Beach is in the first-year class. Other Connecticut men in the same class are H. Frank Rail, Ph. D., of Trinity church, New Haven, and W. F. Sheldon, of Pleasant Valley.

Second year—F. H. L. Hammond, of Wallingford.

Third year, full membership—Burtonette R. Brown, of Middlefield, and H. S. Scarborough, of Bloomfield.

Fourth year—Frank E. Bowman, Hartford; William H. F. Fleming, Stratford; Oscar W. Johnson, New Haven; Lewis M. Lounsbury, Trinity church, Bridgeport; Walter F. Prince, (Continued on Third Page).

YALE 5, NEW YORK 4.

National League Team Defeated—Sharp Pitched for Collegians.

New York, April 10.—The Yale university baseball nine played the New York National league team at the Polo grounds this afternoon, and after an interesting game defeated the New Yorkers by the score of 5 to 4. Fisher and Smith were the battery for New York for three innings, when they were relieved by Taylor and Bowerman, who in turn were relieved by Matheson and Warner in the seventh. Sharp pitched a good ball for Yale and was backed up in fine style. The score:

THE FEVER EPIDEMIC.

of itself have developed typhoid germs; but taken with the fact that from three typhoid patients during several weeks the infectious matter was supplied ready made to be swept into the reservoir, the condition of things may be inferred.

Typhoid is an insidious disease. Its premonitory symptoms are so slight that the patient himself does not know he is ill with it, not taking to his bed until a week or more has gone by. It takes some time after that to find out that he has the disease. As a consequence, not till three days after nearly all who had succumbed to the first infection had become seriously ill were the first half dozen cases reported to the health officer. For the same reason the cases which have been reported up to last night, about 285 in all, date back several days to the time when the patients first took to their beds. The cases which have developed meanwhile have not, as yet, been reported.

The second infection, which occurred three weeks ago, is making itself felt now. From a trustworthy source, it is learned that one prominent physician stopped another on the street yesterday and informed him that he had just discovered in his own practice twenty-one cases.

The third infection, which occurred during the exceptionally heavy rains two weeks ago, has yet a week for incubation. As the ground was excavated and furrowed by these rains to a depth of from three to six inches, the buried discharges and the remaining surface soil must have gone in at that time.

A matter which adds to the serious views of the case is that patients do not reach the crisis in typhoid until three weeks after they take to their beds. A large number of cases reported by the physicians have a temperature of 104 and 105 at the first visit.

Yale university resumes work this morning. That the epidemic may cause the college authorities to take a decided action in the matter is not impossible. It was learned yesterday that the water main which has been cut off from the infected reservoir leads to Church street before it meets the main pipe from Lake Whitney. It is believed, however, by the Water company that the alleged infected water could not have gone below College street on account of the back pressure from Lake Whitney. Since, however, it has probably reached the area of student boarding houses it is a subject of apprehension.

In the absence from the city yesterday of President Hadley and other Yale officials, a consultation was held yesterday morning by Professor Henry P. Wright, dean of the academic department, and by Professor Russell H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific school. They decided that it was necessary to send out notices to all the students and to their parents telling them officially the nature of the epidemic as it appears to the Yale leaders and cautioning them against using New Haven city water for a time. The circular letter, which was drawn up by the members of the academic department and later in the day sent out to students and their parents, is as follows:

Yale University,

Secretary's Office, April 10, 1901.
Dear Sir—Many cases of typhoid fever have recently developed in that section of the city west of York street and fed from the Dawson Lake reservoir. The cause of the infection has, it is thought, been discovered and removed, while that part of New Haven in which the majority of students live secures its water almost entirely from other sources.

Acting under the advice of the health officer and some of the best known physicians, and with the approval of the dean of the academic department and the director of the Sheffield Scientific school, it has been decided, however, to urge all students to refrain for the present from drinking any city water that has not been previously boiled. It is also advisable that no uncooked vegetables be eaten. If these simple rules are observed there need be no fear on the part of students in the university or their parents.

Yours very truly,

ANSON PHELPS STOKES, JR.,
Secretary.

The following was posted on the bulletin board of Yale's Sheffield hall yesterday:

Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University.

Director's Office, No. 3 Sheffield Hall, New Haven, April 10, 1901.

NOTICE.

In view of the present outbreak of typhoid fever in the western section of New Haven, believed to be due to the infection of the city water coming from a reservoir used by that section of the city, the attention of all students in the Sheffield Scientific school is called to the necessity of taking proper precautions to guard against possible infection.

It is believed that the cause of the trouble has now been removed, but it is very important that all students abstain from drinking city water unless it has been previously boiled, and to abstain likewise from eating uncooked vegetables until after the epidemic has entirely ceased.

R. H. CHITTENDEN,
Director of the Sheffield Scientific School.

Two more cases were admitted at the New Haven hospital yesterday, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. This brings the total at the hospital up to twenty-five.

NO TYPHOID AT THE Y. W. C. A.

An Erroneous Statement in an Afternoon Paper Yesterday.

It was erroneously stated in an afternoon paper yesterday that Miss Florence Sagendorf, a pupil at the State Normal school, was ill with typhoid fever at the Y. W. C. A. on Chapel street. This was denied at the Y. W. C. A. last night and it was stated that Miss Sagendorf was ill at her home in Bridgewater, where she went at the beginning of the Easter vacation. She was apparently in good health when she left the Y. W. C. A. to go home. It is thought that she drank infected water at the Normal school.

Typhoid in Chicopee.

neau, of Chicopee, are sick with what is declared to be typhoid fever and the board of health is taking precautions against the disease. It was at first thought the children were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes.

FEATURES OF THE MARKET.

As Reviewed by the House of Prince & Whately.

New York, April 10.—The London market under a general improvement in the political and financial situation in Europe opened strong and on heavy transactions in our securities listed there lost none of the opening advances.

Here the market opened stronger and higher, developing and accumulating further strength and advances in almost all stocks throughout the session with the exception of the coals, which latter are under a cloud owing to the threatened strike on the Jersey Central.

Very little news is out in regard to it, but the fear of it makes holders nervous. Should it eventuate in a positive fact, no; alone the coals, some of which are not selling much higher than they were four months ago, but other railroads may be affected also.

In the meantime the reports of the long mooted deal having become facts, and new ones in course of formation, caused general and heavy buying by "pools" and outside operators with the most sanguine confidence of higher prices later on. At the present level of values profit taking would seem to us recommendable, particularly as there are many contingencies and eventualities a little far fetched, perhaps, but yet in the realm of possibilities, which would give us a quick setback in the market.

There were no new features in the money or foreign exchange markets, quotations unchanged from yesterday.

Up to the noon hour no bond purchases had been made by the secretary of the treasury.

Wheat was quiet and unchanged.

Cotton acting with better undertones; prices advancing nearly 25 points from yesterday's lowest.

Some nervousness was exhibited in the stock market in the afternoon hours owing to the non-arrival of the Teutonic up to that time in Europe. We mention this only to show the importance of Mr. Morgan's in the market's movements.

On considerable sales to realize profits and an advance of 7 per cent. in call money towards the close, prices gave way fractionally from the top. The coal stocks were rather better and would indicate an adjustment of the strike difficulties. The close was a trifle irregular.

Total sales, 1,945,700.

TROLLEY LINES FOR CHESHIRE.

Two Petitions for Permission to Build Tracks from Meriden to Waterbury.

Among the most important matters affecting this section of the state up for a hearing before the railroad committee in Hartford this week were the petitions for permission to construct trolley tracks through Cheshire to connect Meriden and Waterbury and to connect the tracks of the Fair Haven and Westville Railroad company at Mount Carmel. R. K. Alger, of the firm of Butler & Alger, in this city; Representative Bristol, County Commissioner Jacob Walter, who resides in Cheshire, united in a petition to the legislature for a charter to build an electric road from Milldale to connect them with the tracks of the Meriden and Compounce company to connect at Mount Carmel with the Fair Haven and Westville tracks, and also for a charter to build tracks from Hanover pond in West Meriden, through Cheshire to Waterbury. The town of Cheshire at the last town meeting voted to take steps to have a trolley connection with New Haven and Waterbury. After the town meeting citizens of the town requested Mr. Alger, Mr. Bristol and Mr. Walter, prominent residents of the town, to take action in pursuance of the vote.

The Meriden and Compounce company, whose tracks extend from Meriden to Milldale, and then to Plantsville, to Southington and to Lake Compounce also asked for a charter to build tracks over the same route from Milldale to Mount Carmel, asked for by the Cheshire party. The question now before the railroad committee is, which of these two petitions shall be recommended favorably.

The Meriden and Compounce company asks also for permission to extend its tracks from Milldale on the Meriden turnpike to Waterbury and to go into Waterbury by way of Dublin street and opposes the granting of a charter to the Cheshire people to build a line from Hanover pond through Cheshire to Waterbury because that would furnish another through route from Meriden to Waterbury. At Hanover pond the proposed Waterbury and Cheshire line of the Cheshire parties would connect with the Meriden and Compounce tracks already built, and so furnish a route for Cheshire people to reach Meriden by trolley conveniently.

The line from Cheshire to Waterbury is greatly desired by Cheshire people, who now have practically no way of getting to Waterbury except by team. The old Meriden and Waterbury steam road, which extends through Cheshire, runs only two trains a day, one in the morning and one in the evening, and these trains are combination freight and passenger trains, which are not much patronized. It is urged in behalf of the petition that more travel goes from Cheshire to Waterbury than to New Haven, and the people of Cheshire claim that citizens of that town should be given the right to build the line because nearly all the proposed road would be in the town of Cheshire.

At the hearing before the committee Tuesday Attorney E. P. Arvine of this city represented the Cheshire petitioners and Judge Marcus H. Holcomb represented the Meriden and Compounce company. George A. Tracy, representing the Connecticut Lighting and Power company objected to the Meriden and Compounce company extending its tracks to Waterbury because that company wants to go into Waterbury, into the center of the city by way of Silver and Dublin streets, while the Cheshire petitioners only ask to go through the plank road from Cheshire to Waterbury to the corner of Silver street, where the Connecticut Lighting and Power company's tracks terminate.

The two petitioners have made the same layout between Milldale and Mount Carmel, where they would connect with the tracks of the Fair Haven and Westville company, which is said to be willing to make traffic arrangements with that one of the petitioners which is successful. There appears to be such a need for a line over the proposed layout that probably one of the two petitions will be granted.

The Meriden and Compounce company two years ago brought to the legislature a petition to build the line and the Cheshire people were then willing, and prepared to assist in securing the franchise, but when the petition was about to come to a hearing the company withdrew the petition. A line from Mount Carmel to Cheshire and thence to Hanover would furnish a good route from New Haven to Meriden and would be a shorter route than one by way of Milldale.

MEXICAN POLITICS.

Many comments on Mexico, her form of government, and her public men are appearing in the press across the northern border. But really there is nothing very complex or mysterious about Mexican political and governmental affairs.

It became necessary, a quarter of a century ago, that the country should be pulled out of the condition of revolutionary turmoil which had succeeded the long and tranquil colonial period. Mistakes had been made. Mexico, on achieving her independence from Spain, modeled her frame of government on that of the United States and adopted the Federal plan. It was not suited to her needs, it was not suited to the temper of an Indo-Latin people who respect authority, visible and concentrated at a single point. Then there was the inevitable collision of the new Liberalism and the old Clericalism. Each party held radically opposite ideas. Revolution succeeded revolution, and yet one may discern in the tangle and complexity of the conflict a slow evolution toward a wider freedom. On both sides opinions were, and still are, sincerely held, and held with the virility of conviction which accredits the forcefulness of the leading minds of this country. But the tumult of ideas, as seen in the civil wars, was ruinous to the country. Enterprise halted, prosperity stood outside the door waiting for the genius of pacification to invite her to enter.

Then came on the scene a strong man, Porfirio Diaz, the predestined reconciler of factions, and possessing the gift of statesmanship. What he has done is before all men's eyes. He has modernized his country. His methods have been those of the able man with a plan clearly outlined in his mind. Obstacles have had to give way whether the obstacles were men or reactionary ideas. Now, with popular education established, the way is clearer to the realization of some definite form of constitutional government, and the Mexican people will realize it in their own way and in accordance with their political genius. Probably it will not be along the lines of the federalism adopted by Washington and his fellow-founders of the United States, but rather will be a centralized state, paternal in its workings. In a word, the French system of republican government, and not the American.

A Diaz, like a Bismarck, must be judged by results; each framed of a state has his methods and they are not always those approved by debating societies and Mugwumps in council assembled. To achieve the quiet egg must be broken, and despite all objections, all sentimentalities, this must be the way. Mexico has an innate liking for strong men, forceful ways, masterfulness. She has never allowed mediocre men to rule her; they have lost their seat and fallen prone on the ground, sometimes in an undignified manner. From Cortes to Diaz the men who have made things move in Mexico, who have constructed and pushed forward, have been men of dynamic brains.

The Mexican people since the independence have always reserved the veto power to themselves; they have used it when weak men have tried to rule, when strong men have come forward with well-formed plans. Thus in Mexican governments do rest on the consent of the governed. The emergence of Mexico from provincialism, her achievement of genuine nationality, her restored credit, her marvelous material progress, are due to the statesman who has made his country's welfare his ideal, and without weakness, without deflection from the line laid down for himself, has persevered. His cause always evident to the whole body of Mexican citizens who have intrusted him with vast powers. He has not misused them.—New York Herald.

The number of typhoid cases recorded at the health office yesterday up to 5 o'clock was about 300. The apparent steady decline in the number of cases developing is gratifying to the health authorities. The deaths reported up to last night now makes the total fourteen. The deaths yesterday were those of Miss Grace A. Bronson, daughter of Mrs. M. L. Bronson, of 57 Elm street, and Daniel B. Lindsey, the eight-year-old son of Edgar B. Lindsey, of 16 Deckerian street, who died yesterday morning at the New Haven hospital.

PERSONAL JOINTINGS.

William Neely, former partner of Edward Mallay, the well known Chapel street merchant, who has been ill for two weeks at his home on Park street, the trouble starting with an inflammatory rheumatism, is now very ill, as complications have set in. The danger in the sickness now lies in the fact that a brain trouble has set in. While he is making a brave fight to recover, there is no dispute about the apprehension felt concerning Mr. Neely's illness. His friends are not permitted to see him, owing to the seriousness of his malady. Another reason is that Mr. Neely has never desired callers when he has been ill. For these reasons his illness has not been generally known.

Dr. Frank Whittemore is the attending physician. He declined, however, to make any statement of the case yesterday, except to say that Mr. Neely is dangerously ill.

Floyd Andrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Andrew, of Dwight street, who has been ill at his home for the past three weeks, will return soon to the Hotchkiss school at Lakeville.

Major Peix, of Danbury, the youngest municipal mayor of the state, is staying in town for a few days at the home of his brother-in-law, Q. A. Lyman, No. 338 Howard avenue. Mr. Peix is a graduate of Yale in the class of '90.

Mrs. John Dickens, of Danbury, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. G. B. Bunnell, for the past ten days, returned to her home the latter part of last week.

County Commissioner Hart D. Munson is quite ill at his home with a severe cold.

Charles Chamberlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Chamberlin, of West Haven, will attend Mr. Booth's school in this city, which commenced the summer term yesterday.

The Rev. Amos Phelps Stokes, Jr., secretary of Yale, went on a short vacation yesterday morning. He has earned it, for he remained in the city throughout the Easter recess attending to his duties in St. Paul's church and much routine business of the university. President Hadley was in California at the time, which necessitated extra work in Mr. Stokes' offices. Mr. Stokes will return next Saturday. He went to Hampton, Va., taking the Old Dominion line of steamers to Norfolk. To-morrow he will attend the anniversary celebration at Hampton university. In a day or two he will join his father for a yachting cruise of several days.

Mrs. Frank Ball, of Main street, West Haven, who is visiting in New Haven, is ill.

Ex-Selectman David S. Williams, of Meriden, who has been in poor health for some time, is now very low and it is feared that his death is only a matter of a few days.

Stanley Warner, of West Haven, son of Royal Warner, has accepted a position with the George Warner company.

Superintendent of Letter Carriers Edward J. Kennedy was at his desk at the postoffice yesterday morning after an absence of six weeks. He has just recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia. The superintendent was congratulated by a number of his friends on his recovery. This was the third attack of pneumonia he has had.

Miss Orr, of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Lomas, of West Haven, returned to her home yesterday.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Leete made the announcement from the pulpit of Dwight Place church on Sunday that up to that time there were twenty-five cases of typhoid fever among the members of his congregation. The Twentieth Century supper has been indefinitely postponed by the Ladies' Benevolent society in view of the great amount of sickness in the church. The Christian Endeavor society has also postponed its annual supper.

Mrs. Huntly Drummond, of Montreal, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Reynolds, of West Haven, returned to her home yesterday.

The students of the University of New York have arranged themselves on the side of Professor Edward T. Buchner, Yale 1883. Dr. Buchner, with Professor Charles H. Judd and Samuel Weir, has just resigned owing to differences of opinion with the remainder of the faculty of the School of Pedagogy. It is said to be a quarrel as to methods of instruction, the curriculum and other professional and academic matters. The feeling in the faculty ran high and the members of the two factions did not speak to each other for some time. Chancellor MacCracken sided with the opposition to the methods urged by the three instructors who resigned. The students have called upon him through a committee and urged that the resignation not be accepted. Nevertheless, Chancellor MacCracken has stated that the resignations will take effect with the close of the present college year, and that new instructors to fill the vacancies so caused will be filled in May.

Twenty-nine, and in the Grace hospital the two additional patients received yesterday brings the number up to sixteen. While several cases in the hospitals are reported as being quite serious, the majority are doing fairly well and it is hoped that all will pull through.

Among the cases reported yesterday is one in the family of Professor Henry Bartsch, 21 Vernon street. Miss Catherine Beers, a daughter of the professor, has been taken with it and the case was reported by Dr. Lindsley yesterday.

It is said that no reports have yet been received by the board of health or by the Water company of the examination of samples of Dawson reservoir water taken a week or two ago since the epidemic commenced. While the health department seems reasonably sure that they have struck the source of infection in the Dawson water, they are unwilling yet to say affirmatively that the water is responsible for the epidemic. They say they are waiting for the reports of the experts.

Opinions differ on this question and the medical profession have about as many separate and absolutely fixed opinions as do the laymen. Meanwhile the company is doing everything that can possibly be done to allay the excitement, and is itself conducting a rigid investigation into the sources and conditions of the alleged infection. Officials decline as yet to make this public, as it is still incomplete.

TYPHOID CASES NUMBER 372.

Review of the Epidemic in Monthly Bulletin of State Board of Health. Twelve cases of typhoid were reported to the board of health yesterday, making the total number of cases up to last night 372. There have been sixteen deaths reported since the epidemic started.

Joseph C. Lusco, thirty years old, of 116 Lafayette street, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning after being ill one week with typhoid.

Cady L. Slagle, a brother of Lieutenant Charles Slagle, of chemical company No. 10, died Monday at 26 Charles avenue from typhoid.

Roger Baldwin, Jr., five years old, son of Roger B. DeRussey, now with Peck Brothers & Co. in Boston, died yesterday from typhoid at the home of his parents, 522 George street.

Charles Robert Rice, aged twelve years, died of typhoid Monday night at the home of his parents, Eugene E. and Caroline R. Rice, 522 Orchard street.

Among the new cases of typhoid reported yesterday is Miss Annie C. Latimer, a teacher in the Hillhouse high school. She boarded on Beers street, and after going to her home in Newington before Easter was taken ill. Her illness is now declared to be typhoid.

Arthur Manerer, a student at Yale, rooming at 131 Farnam hall, has been taken to the Yale Infirmary. He has been ill several days and the physicians say that he has typhoid fever.

Dr. C. A. Lindsey, in the monthly bulletin of the state board of health, reviews the epidemic at some length. He says: "The first intimation of the epidemic of typhoid fever now prevailing in a particular locality in New Haven was given to Dr. Wright, the health officer, on Wednesday, the third day of April. Through the valuable aid afforded by the telephone service, he was enabled to communicate rapidly with a sufficient number of physicians to determine on the next day the probable origin of the infection and the medium of its distribution. A personal examination of the suspected locality confirmed his suspicions that Dawson Lake had become infested with typhoid germs. He notified the Water company of the conditions he had found. The water from the accused reservoir was immediately shut off from its consumers and the supply pipe was flushed out with water from other sources.

"In the remote limits of an adjoining town, eight miles from New Haven, there had been during the first three months of the year, at different times, three cases of typhoid. The discharges from the patients were not disinfected, but the father of the family was directed to bury them.

"During the illness of these patients the ground was frozen solid, and there is every reason to believe that there was no true burial of the feces. The alleged place of burial was on a side hill with steep inclination to a water course leading directly to Dawson Lake, an important reservoir of the New Haven Water company.

"During all the season there had been an unusual absence of rain. On the 11th of March there was a precipitation of 2.46 inches in twenty-four hours. This heavy fall had a scouring effect upon the surface, carrying all loose debris into the water courses. The temperature had risen during the previous three days so that the surface of the ground was partly thawed, but the deeper ground was still frozen. Doubtless the greater part or the whole of the infected material was washed into Dawson Lake by this rain on March 11.

"The first notice of a marked increase of typhoid was on April 3, twenty-three days after the heavy rainfall of March 11, or on the expiration of the period of incubation.

"The number of cases reported increased daily until the maximum was reached on the 9th inst., since when it has decreased. Up to the present date, April 12, there have been reported 315 cases.

"The persons afflicted are limited very closely to those who have been supplied with water from Dawson Lake. No other source of infection has yet been discovered, although the most diligent inquiry has been pursued.

"This serious calamity to New Haven should be a most impressive and emphatic lesson to physicians and health officers regarding the necessity of a destructive disposal of the excreta of typhoid patients."

YALE MAN DIES OF TYPHOID.

Elwood Luther Orwig, of the Junior Class, died Sunday at his home.

Elwood Luther Orwig, a member of the truth of what he said. "No luck! There is no such thing as luck!" retorts many a swollen, bombastic plutocrat, pluming himself on being what he styles "sole architect of his own fortune," and all that, quite as absurdly as Irving's Dutch tobacconist in the Knickerbocker papers, who had a huge load of cabbage emblazoned on the panels of the coach he finally set up, and under it the motto, "Alles Kopf All Head!" to indicate the one and only cerebral source of such magnificent success. The motto and the illuminating idea that went with it could never have emanated from any but a cabbage-head of utterly commonplace sauerkraut intellect.

In truth, the part played in human destiny by what is called luck or pure chance of fortune—as it appears to mortal eyes—in all ages riveted the attention of the wisest and profoundest minds, of men like Aristotle, Sophocles, Plato, Dante, Shakespeare. No cabbage-head vaunt of absolute individual control over the outcome of events has ever for a moment misled their minds. In their stupendous dramas of Prometheus, Oedipus, Othello, Lear, the part played by seeming external chance in precipitating the whole tragic situation always appealed overwhelmingly to their imagination. There are whole families—as they plainly saw even, in everyday life—which from generation to generation never had a stroke of luck, just as with some Jukes family of our day, while there are other families which have had it straight along, and so presented an unbroken succession of successful men of affairs, scholars, soldiers, jurists and divines. To be born into the one brood means ignorance, imbecility, ricketts, the idiot asylum, the poorhouse or the jail. To be born into the other means health, capacity, opportunity, the rich mansion, the public seat of honor. Thus to an Aesculapius or Sophocles—for all its splendor of environment—a royal Pelops line of kings stands for absolutely nothing more than a Jukes family in purple and gold, working out its wretched poverty-stricken poorhouse destiny on more outwardly splendid royal lines. The Pelops family was born under an unlucky star. This is what impresses these mighty dramatists as they set to work to unroll the story of fate of life, and to touch the heart by showing how, though it never had a stroke of luck, it yet glorified itself by manifesting a certain heroic power of forging ahead without luck.

Now, Tom, Dick and Harry, as well as all the rest of us average mortals, might hardly fail to be quite as much impressed with the part played in life by what is called luck as ever Shakespeare was. We see clearly enough, for example, how one man, plain and perhaps rather stupid farmer, chances to strike an oil well on his land that yields him a vast fortune and an ultimate opportunity to secure the happiness of his dear daughter by marrying her to a Conant Bon, while his side-by-side neighbor, not unlikely a man of more sense and industry, never strikes anything on his farm but stones he has to struggle with as his dying day to make them yield space for the beets and carrots out of which he earns a sparse living. The one farmer, we say, had luck, while the other had not, and then again add, after all, what an immense pull on luck! And we are right. A pure stroke of luck, for which a man can claim no iota of merit, may turn the current of the whole future history of his own life and of the lives of his descendants.

Good luck, then, is the Aladdin's lamp, one rub on which may in an instant turn the ragged beggar boy into the owner of splendid palaces and enchanted gardens. Bad luck, on the other hand, is the hapless encounter with the war, the pestilence, the hereditary taint, the shipwreck, the treacherous villain, either one of which may reduce him back to rags, helplessness and misery. Each is termed luck, and on the same grounds, namely, that neither personal intent nor foresight had a whit to do with either event.

The only sane view, then, to take of human life is that it is an experience in which foresight, prudence and industry always count for much, but in which luck will ever play a master part. No true symbol of what must be looked for on the life voyage can be conceived than that which is offered by the sailing ship on the ocean voyage.

Clear back in the early California days, when the delirium of the gold fever sent such hordes across the plains to try their fortunes, it became to ship owners a matter of capital importance to dispatch out round the Horn cargo of supplies of every sort. Fabulous prices would be paid for goods first on the market. Two first-rate clipper ships might easily have been fitting out in New York at the same time, ships equally swift, staunch and ably commanded. The one, however, from the nature of her cargo, is able to put to sea a day before the other. Throughout the whole voyage she carries a fair wind with her, races like a gull clear down to the Horn, slips round that so often stormy and baffling promontory in the fairest of weather, strikes the trade winds beyond, and inside of ninety days is anchored in San Francisco bay. The second ship, however, meets just the reverse of this. She pitches into head winds, and head seas from the start. All the way to the Horn she has to beat one hundred miles for every thirty she makes. Arrived off there, she has to fight it out with gales, squalls, sleet and ice that keep her under storm sails for six whole weeks, and when at last she drops anchor in San Francisco bay over one hundred and forty days have gone. Yet throughout the whole voyage her captain, alert by night and day, has never lost an inch of headway he might have saved. It is too late now, however, for the high prices the cargo would have brought.

Bulke slept long and soundly, but at midnight awoke comparatively sober. A little light came into the room from an electric lamp in the street, and he saw the body of the man on the slab with that gaping wound at the throat. It was too much for his nerves. He started for the door, pushing against the carriage and sending it across the floor, trying to shout out in his excitement and terror. He slipped and fell. Then he swore—Rochester Post Express.

NEVER A STROKE OF LUCK! "None of the Keats family ever had any luck," once exclaimed the illustrious poet whose glorious achievement had made the family name immortal, yet whose own tragic fate through unrequited love and early disease and death seemed one more attestation to the truth of what he said. "No luck! There is no such thing as luck!" retorts many a swollen, bombastic plutocrat, pluming himself on being what he styles "sole architect of his own fortune," and all that, quite as absurdly as Irving's Dutch tobacconist in the Knickerbocker papers, who had a huge load of cabbage emblazoned on the panels of the coach he finally set up, and under it the motto, "Alles Kopf All Head!" to indicate the one and only cerebral source of such magnificent success. THE LATE EDMOND GOT.

It is rarely that fame moves quickly with an artist in this world-famous home of the artist, and M. Got. Like many men who went before—and like many who will come after—was destined to wait until 1848 before he scored his first great success. The part was that of the Cure in Alfred de Musset's "Le neuf jére de Rien." Into this he imparted qualities that agreeably surprised even the author. The Cure was intended to be very much like Sothern's Lord Dundreary was intended to be in later years—a character of no importance, and introduced into the piece chiefly as a foil to the Baron, with whom he played picquet. But Got took the part to heart, gave it his best study, and succeeded in making it a type of the village cure—a goodnatured somewhat awkward priest, innocent of the world and its ways, who, while submissive to the domineering Baron, felt all the time the spirit of self-respect reviving within him.

Here was another instance of an actor marking more of a part than the author had intended—an agreeable variant to the stereotyped charge that an actor often makes less. Alfred de Musset generously and spontaneously declared that the unfathomed possibilities of the Cure had been plumbed by Got, and that life and character had been breathed into what was conceived as little more than a lay figure. Theophilus Gaunter said of the performance, "Got, admirably grim, a fait du personnage tout a fait épique de l'abbé une silhouette animée et vivante, picque de bêtise, fine et débonnaire esfarde cane la monstre caricature." This verdict was unanimously declared to be simply just. The reputation of Got was established, and in 1850 he became a societate. From that time onward he increased in favor. Emile Augier, the best of whose characters he created, became his firm and steadfast friend. Paris admitted that he was unrivaled as a creator of character.

"There are such parts," it was said, "such as our friend the Cure, Goboyer and Poirier, who are so essentially Got's creations that they have become in a manner detached from their literary origin. When you read 'Les fils de Goboyer' you are not particularly struck by this literary free lance; you think that this combination of roguery and good nature and genius is neither original nor quite true to life. Got had seen Goboyer in flesh and bone, a living, palpable type of man, and so he made him. His impudent Goboyer, struggling against circumstances, always reduced to dirty work to earn a living for himself and his son—jealously watching over the education of his child, through whom he seeks his own moral redemption—the masterpiece of truth." After the first run of popularity of the "Fils de Goboyer" had been exhausted the piece lay idle for some years. Augier feeling that when the clergy were in poor odor they were no longer "fashionable" for his pen. After the death of Augier and the cessation of the clerical struggle there was no reason for postponing the revival of a piece in which he had gained one of his most famous successes. It was said of Got that he had filled during his lengthy career more parts than any living actor in France. He estimated that he had played between two and three hundred parts, and about half of them for the first time. We who have insular prejudices may take some comfort from the reflection that some of our own players—and younger men than Got—have done much more than this, although it is to be feared that few of them rose to the same high level of distinction. Mr. Barclay, in his admirable essay on the retirement of the actor, says:

"Criticism has found fault with some of Mr. Got's interpretation. Not all parts lend themselves to playing with conviction. His Georges Dandin is one of these; and there are others, most of them now forgotten. M. Got has never been a light comedian. All parts—heavy, medium or light—are serious for him. The parts that suit him are those in which he can bring out the living character, droll or not. The buffoon is not in his nature, though he has tried even that species with success. In some cases, with dogged persistency, he has faced all criticism, and the public has given against him. This was the case with Balzac's 'Mercadet.' For the last twenty-five or thirty years, however, the public has taken M. Got as he is, and the critics have had little to say that it was after 1868, when Got brought his action against the Comédie Française, that he obtained his commanding position on the Paris stage. His northern blood revolted against the acts of authority emanating from the court at St. Cloud. The quality of the company was being undermined by favoritism. In connection with a pretty but insufficiently capable protégé, for whom court influence sought to open the doors of the house of Molière, Got 'struck.' His resignation was declined, and he brought an action on the strength of an article of the civil code, providing that a partnership of unlimited duration can be dissolved at the instance of any partner thereof. Fortunately for him, the Comédie Française, that he obtained his commanding position on the Paris stage. TYPHOID CASES NUMBER 400.

Situation is Practically Unchanged at the Present Time.

The number of typhoid cases now registered in the health office reached slightly above 400. But one death was reported yesterday, making twenty-two all told since the epidemic started.

The situation is practically unchanged at the present time from what it has been for the past two or three days. The officials are still at work to find any new cause of infection should break loose, but are quite confident that the epidemic is on the wane.

The death of Wednesday night was that of a young colored boy named Bell, the son of Mrs. Virginia Bell, of 91 Webster street.

There are many cases which are likely to result fatally.

The patients at the hospitals, Yale infirmary and jail are reported to be doing as well as can be expected.

Several of the hospital patients are regarded as being in a very critical condition.

N. A. Beebe of Pine Street Severely Injured—Baker's Team Ran Into Him—F. R. Tuttle Appointed—Eighty-three Vessels in the Harbor Yesterday.

The Right Reverend Chauncey B. Brewster, D. D., LL.D., bishop of the diocese, will be in attendance at St. James' church on Sunday evening next to administer the rite of confirmation. As it is some considerable time since the bishop has visited this church, doubtless a large congregation will be present both to witness the ceremony and to listen to the address.

The choir of St. James' P. E. church, assisted by Miss Rebecca Wilder Holmes, violinist, and Miss M. Louise Gallagher, harpist, will render a specially selected programme at the morning service on Sunday next. Miss Bradley, solo soprano of the quartette, will sing for the offertory. Gounod's "Light from Heaven," with violin obbligato and harp and organ accompaniment. Mr. Bristol will preside at the organ. The service has been arranged by the director, A. L. Chamberlain, in recognition of the retiring members of the choir.

N. A. Beebe, of Pine street, was severely injured a few days ago while wheeling to the city. As he was proceeding on his bicycle a horse belonging to Hahn, the baker, rushed out of a driveway near Barnesville bridge on Grand avenue ran into Mr. Beebe and threw him to the ground with great violence. A cord in each leg was ruptured, severe bruises were sustained and his back and ribs were injured. Those who witnessed the accident say it is a wonder he was not killed. He is now able to be at work, although he suffers considerable pain from his injuries. His bicycle was wrecked. It seems the man in charge of the horse drove to a blacksmith shop to leave a bakery wagon; then grabbing hold of the harness he sprang upon the horse's back. The animal dashed out of the yard on to the avenue before the man secured control of the reins and ran into Mr. Beebe. Those who saw the accident say it was great carelessness on the part of the driver, and Mr. Beebe has put in a claim for one hundred dollars damages and the case is in the hands of a lawyer.

An audience of seven hundred listened to the singing of the Bowery Male Quartette at the Second Congregational church Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Irvine was taken ill with chills and fever on Sunday and was unable to conduct the service. After the selections by the quartette Victor H. Benke, of the quartette, gave a short organ recital.

W. F. Prince, of the Law and Order league, gave an address on "The Civic Hero" at St. Andrew's M. E. church Sunday evening. Rev. Duane N. Griffin, the pastor, returned from conference ill and was unable to attend the services Sunday.

Several candidates will take the degree at the meeting of Columbia castle, K. G. E., this evening. The castle meeting will be followed by a short musical entertainment, with piano music and cornet solos.

There was a fleet of eighty-three vessels in the harbor yesterday morning, having been detained by the easterly weather. It is estimated that this fleet, exclusive of cargoes, was worth at least $1,000,000. It was the biggest fleet to anchor in the harbor in years.

Frederick R. Tuttle, of the east side, has been reappointed a member of the board of relief under the new administration. He has been a member of the board for years and has served the city well.

The Contented Whist club will have the last meet of the season to-morrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Gertrude Holaday, of Quinnipiac avenue.

EIGHT NEW CASES REPORTED.

One Typhoid Suspect Received at Grace Hospital Yesterday.

Eight new cases of typhoid were reported at the health office yesterday morning. Some of the people who were taken ill during the early part of the epidemic have died, so that the total number of cases now reported is probably about 400. Health Officer Bevin, of Orange, reports that there are four cases of typhoid now in that town.

Florence, the eight-year-old daughter of Constable Peter McNerney, of 110 Asylum street, is ill with typhoid.

Thomas C. Moran, of the Union, is ill with typhoid fever at his home, 221 Sherman avenue.

At Grace hospital yesterday only one patient was received who exhibited symptoms of typhoid. This case is only a suspect at present and the attending physician will not be able to determine definitely for a couple of days whether the case is typhoid or not. No new cases of typhoid were received at the New Haven hospital yesterday.

NORTHFORD.

The Rev. James Ensign, who is holding evangelistic services at the Congregational church in Northford, is a man thoroughly consecrated to God. Through his meetings and personal work many souls are coming out on the Lord's side. There is no uncertain sound in his preaching. He says "show me a church with its members given over to card playing and dancing and I will show you a dead church."

The comediettes came off Friday evening. Each one acted their part admirably. All deserve great credit, especially those who planned it. Only one thing happened to mar the evening's pleasure. During the dance which followed some one imbibed too freely and the result was a row, which, of course, was regretted by all.

WAFFINGFORD.

The resignation of Rev. J. J. Blair as pastor of the Congregational church which was announced Sunday morning causes much surprise and sorrow among the members of the church and other warm friends of the reverend gentleman, who is popular with all denominations, and his departure from Waffingford, where he has been located for the past seven years, will be a source of regret to all.

The rainfall in the borough since Saturday noon has been 9.9 inches, which is very heavy. The total rainfall for the month of April has been 10 55-100 inches.

Pough pond is nearly full, and Sunday afternoon when Superintendent Burke was over there was within 13% inches of running. The gauge showed 114% inches, a gain of 112% inches in the past week. The canal was full and the prospects that the water will run over the waste way inside of a week.

The heavy rain of Saturday night and Sunday made sad havoc in the roads in and out of the borough. Mix's hill south of Yalesville, is badly washed, and from all parts of the town comes reports of bad washouts. Owing to the heavy downpour the sewers were inadequate to carry away the surface water. Cellars on Main street and other parts were flooded, and considerable damage was done.

A few more such rainstorms and another appropriation for roads will be necessary, as the repairs made this spring already have necessarily used up quite a sum of money.

EXPERIMENT STATION REPORT.

Solutions Good for Peach Trees—Bandaging Trees—Sumatra Tobacco.

Part III. of the twenty-fourth report of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station at New Haven has just been issued as a pamphlet of one hundred and sixty-nine pages. An elaborate series of experiments made in orchards near New Haven has shown that Bordeaux mixture, soda Bordeaux, ammonia solution of copper carbonate and verdigris solution commonly used as fungicides on other fruit trees, seriously damage both foliage and fruit of peach trees. On the other hand potassium sulphide solution, of the strength usually employed, is without bad effect on fruit or leaves and is an effective fungicide. It must, however, be frequently applied, as it is readily washed off by rain. The station botanist recommends spraying peach trees with Bordeaux mixture, the 5-5-50 mixture, before the buds expand; with Bordeaux mixture 2-4-50, just before the blossoms open and once after fruit has set, and with potassium sulphide, one pound to fifty gallons of water, two or three times during the period of ripening.

The banding of trees to protect from the canker worm has been successfully practiced at the station for several years. The method, fully described in this report, consists in applying printer's ink to the bands and keeping this sticky by brushing it occasionally with black Virginian oil, used for greasing the axles of freight cars.

As to whether Sumatra tobacco can be raised in Connecticut the report of the experiment described in this report shows conclusively that it was raised in 1900, on the station's experiment grounds and was equal in all respects to the average imported article. Whether it can be raised at a profit remains to be seen.

Analyses are given of nearly two hundred samples of cattle foods sold in Connecticut. These are briefly discussed and the folly is shown of buying for farm use many of the starchy and strawy foods now in market, which are waste products of manufacture, and which cost nearly as much as the concentrated cattle foods. This part of the report will be sent to all citizens of the state who apply for it, as long as the edition lasts.

Dvorak's great symphony, "From the New World," played in New Haven but once before and then by the late lamented Seidel, will be perhaps the feature of a very interesting program.

STOCK MARKET FEATURES.

As Reviewed by the House of Prince & Whitely.

New York, April 22—Great things were expected of the stock market this morning by such principals as only had a small interest. Their opinion was based solely on the good bank statement of Saturday. The parties most at interest were well aware of the workings of the different deals and basing their operations upon such knowledge extended their interest in such specialties only as they were well informed about. In other words, it was not and is not a market which should be bought by the public in general at present values on the simple belief and faith that all stocks must go up. There are many like the coolers for instance which on merit should have improved before this; there are others like good industrials which on their earning capacity should go up and scarcely respond, and yet they show very little animation and resiliency. Present conditions, commercial and financial, certainly are unprecedentedly good, at the same time if the high priced railway properties are to continue in their advances in value some of the industrials should certainly participate in the market's advance.

Founders' day was celebrated yesterday at the Morgan school, Clinton. The day is the anniversary of the birth of the late Charles Morgan, who was the owner of the Morgan steamship line and who built and endowed the school in that place. The oration was delivered by J. H. Spencer, of New York city, a student in the school, and the $25 prize for the best essay was given Miss Lillian S. Grant, of Stony Creek.

President Hall, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, says that the arrangement for freight traffic with the New York Central, heretofore announced, is in fact part of a general policy of the company to be pursued towards all connecting westward roads. Under the plan to be now put into operation, the New Haven road will use the freight originating at its non-competitive points to demand in return reciprocity from the outside lines on freight consigned to the New Haven's competitive points.

Professor T. G. Shepard, organist and leader of the choir at the Church of the Redeemer, announced yesterday the personnel of the choir for the ensuing year beginning May 1. The tenor of the first quartette was not engaged until Sunday evening. The list is as follows: First quartette, Miss Teresa Barnes, soprano; Miss Margaret Rockwell, contralto; Henry F. Spencer, tenor; Riley E. Phillips, Jr., bass. Second quartette, Miss Sadie E. Aldmon, soprano; Miss Ellen A. Reed, contralto; Henry J. Goodman, tenor; Charles J. Leishman, bass. Organist and director, Thomas G. Shepard.

George H. Bishop, president of the Peck & Bishop Co., returned to New Haven the last of the week, after an absence of nearly three months, spent in Nebraska and Southern California. Several New Haveners visited Los Angeles during his stay there. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hubinger among the number. Mr. Bishop visited a former employee, Philander Hatch, who is located at Long Beach, a growing town twenty miles or so from Los Angeles.

London this morning was strong and purchases for European account were established to amount to nearly 100,000 shares of the variously listed international stocks. The sentiment of favor of high values here at home is running so strong and principally among the larger interests that it is difficult to try and prognosticate even where and when it will stop. All basic conditions appear to be good. All branches of trade, even the long neglected textile branch, are improving; money is plentiful and financial, certainly are unprecedentedly good, at the same time if the high priced railway properties are to continue in their advances in value some of the industrials should certainly participate in the market's advance.

Foreign exchanges are firm and as long as rates for money are low here and discounts in Europe easy rates may go to a gold export point. As it is the United States treasury and the country holds more gold than at any time before, consequently gold exports should not disturb the market.

Wheat was strong on weak conditions. Prices are nearly 15¢ higher, yet speculation is much restricted.

Cotton has a good under tone; the position in itself is strong and the lateness of planting of the coming crop is not conducive to help the professional bear element here. We look for much higher prices.

During the last hour the stock market under heavy realization and in some cases short selling on the part of professional traders became quite reactionary, prices yielding throughout the list, but the tenor with all that cannot be called weak. In fact, towards the very close the market found tolerably good support. Stock exchange sales break a record to-day. Total sales, 2,359,800.

POLI'S LUCKY STRIKE.

Has Booked Features Sufficient to Fill Every Bill for the Season.

Manager Poll has been a very busy man for several weeks, as this is the time when up-to-date managers are on the alert to snap up attractions that have open time late in the season, owing to the withdrawal of the road shows whose season is much shorter than that of the vaudeville houses.

He has been very successful in this particular, that he has booked his attraction solid for the remainder of the season and the beginning of next season. Among those are some of the brightest of variety novelties that have been used as features of the big combination shows.

Patrons of the house get the benefit of this reinforcement of talent by having for the rest of the season, more than the usual number of headline attractions in every bill.

He was hungry and in funds.

NEW PHASE

In the Clinton Liquor Case.

The Clinton liquor case has added a new chapter. It will be remembered that the drug store of John B. Wright was raided five months ago, a large quantity of liquor seized and, after a six days' trial, the owner was sentenced to pay certain fines and costs, from which decision he appealed to the superior court. Later, he concluded to abide the judgment of the lower court, pay fine and costs of $9,57 in the criminal suit, and the total costs in the suit were, which, together with the destruction of some $120 worth of liquors, was a somewhat costlier issue than the original sentence involved. It was supposed that the case would end here. But it is reported that for certain reason it became desirable to measure the liquors seized and that Secretary Thrasher, of the law and order league, engaged United States Gauger E. A. Joachinson, of this city, for that purpose. In consequence of discoveries alleged to have been made by him Mr. Joachinson made another visit of investigation to Clinton, yesterday, accompanied by Deputy Collector Bryant, of Ansonia. On evidence furnished by the law and order league Wright was found liable to the United States government for violation of the federal malt license law. It appeared by his previous statement in court that he had sold lager by wholesale to one Pratt, for which it seems he had no wholesaler's license. Yesterday he settled with the deputy collector by the payment of $75. It is reported that a further investigation revealed the fact that a barrel of whiskey and one of gin among the stock seized by the officers of the league, did not comply with the United States internal revenue laws, and that unless Wright can show that the shipper was entitled to pay Uncle Sam a considerable sum in addition.</p

Kind of anything. In furniture polish it's "Cedarine." There's no doubt of it. Judging from the amount we sell we often wonder if there is any other kind sold in Waterbury. We have just received 15 gross. That's 2,100 bottles. Naturally think that would "last us for awhile," but we would dislike to have any of "Cedarine's" friends disappointed just at the time when they need it most. the danger of flooding in the spring to be constant, and one against which the most thorough precautions are necessary. There is a heavy expense necessary to provide effectively against calamity of this kind, but it has to be incurred as a measure of safety. We doubt if any outlay of this kind was ever made which subsequent events did not justify, and the losses from inadequacy in this respect have been appalling.

HEARD IN PASSING

After four days of honeymooning, a Kansas couple, aged 88 and 65, have separated, and the bride will sue for a divorce. She says: "The story that my husband could cut cords of wood a day is not true. He cannot cut the kindling needed to light the fires. I had to get up and light the fire every morning, which is a husband's duty." Oh, those giddy young people! When will they learn to look before they leap into the matrimonial seal?—Boston Herald.

A Norwalk man, desperate and tired of life, bade his wife farewell forever, on Friday morning, then went out back of the house and deliberately cut himself on the arm with a butcher knife, so severely that his wife had to bring a piece of court plaster and a half a bottle of salve to cover up the scar. His suicidal attempt was not completely successful, but it was almost as painful as being vaccinated.—New Haven Palladium.

Farmer S. L. Petersheim is a member of the Amish church in Leacock township, Pennsylvania. He was not notified to send his boy to school, so he paid no attention to the notice. Brought before the court he said that he needed the boy on his farm, that he had the sanction of the law of God in keeping him there, and that he did not fear any law of man. For obeying his instructions his boy had been whipped at school, he said. He would not employ a lawyer, and he flatly refused to pay his fine and costs. They were paid for him by his surety. He lets the court room declaring that what he had done he would continue to do.—New Haven Courier and Journal.

America takes one-sixth, or $50,000,000 of the new British loan of $300,000,000. The importance of this country as a great financial center is apparent. The new loan matures April 1, 1923 and may be paid at any time after that date. It bears interest for two years at 2% per cent and thereafter at 2 1/2% per cent. It is subject to the new income tax of nearly 6 per cent. It is market at 94 1/2. The loan is considered as safe as any investment in the world. If the Boers give up soon there will be a big advance in the consols. America has plenty of capital to invest but we think it will be only the millionaires who will be able to take the loan. Widows and orphans with limited capital will have to take something that pays better, even if the risks are greater. Some Bridgeport money-lenders are satisfied with a trifle of from forty to one hundred per cent per annum. True, they take risks.—Bridgeport Post.

NO BREAKING OFF.

"See here, Daniel," began the old farmer when he had cornered his son on the corncrib, "what's this here circulatin' round 'mong the neighbors 'bout you and Patience breakin' off yer engagement?"

"Nuthin' to it ta'll," with a sullen tone and look.

"Blamed funny. I never see so much smoke where they wasn't some fire. Did you and her have some words?"

"I said there wasn't no breakin' off, didn't I? What's the use of cross-questionin' a feller like he was on the witness stand?"

"Lots of use, my young man. Hain't I told you more times 'n you've got fingers and toes that your mind and ma's mind is set on this here marriagie? Don't our farms jine, and isn't she a only chile an' hain't you a only chile? Hain't you got no gum-tum nur common sense?"

"She said not. She said I didn't know enough ter peel blud pertaters afore eatin' em, or to keep awake when I was a courting' of her."

"She hain't so far wrong, either.

"I tol' her she didn't have interlock enough to talk so's to keep nobody awake and that if I was a picklin' and a choosin' for beauty she'd be at the foot of the class. That's what I tol' her."

"Well?"

"She ordered me to git out and said she ever see me on that farm from then hencefor'ard she would set the dogs on me, an' I tol' her the dogs would have an easy time of it so far as I was concerned. But there was no breakin' off."

"Then the old man informed the boy that if the engagement wasn't renewed within twenty-four hours, he'd leave every "durned dollar" to a sanitorium for fools.—Detroit Free Press."

FINANCE AND INDUSTRY.

Fifty years ago a kilogram of aluminum cost $50. To-day the price is 50 cents.

The approximate value of the commercial fisheries of the United States in 1899 was $40,000,000, to which the oyster industry contributed about $14,000,000.

From Russia (northern ports) unprinted paper is imported into Great Britain to the annual value of over $70,000. Wood pulp boards are also received in fairly large quantities from Russia.

England's exports of machinery, implements, apparatus, etc., which in 1875 were $38,000,000, had increased to $100,000,000 by 1900; Germany's $16,500,000 in 1875 grew to $60,000,000 by 1900; while America's $10,000,000 in 1875 grew to $50,000,000 by 1900.

The runs of the oil wells in the Montpelier (Ind.) fields for March were 47,600 barrels. The average daily shipments were 26,500 barrels, and runs about 16,000 barrels. The month's product was sold at 88 and 99 cents, and brought over $420,000.

The activity in the sugar beet industry began in 1896. Since that time 35 factories have been built. The census year ended May 31, 1900, was a bad year for the industry, for the beet crop was a partial failure; 21 factories, however, were in operation and they produced 35 per cent. of our total sugar production, while ten years earlier the output of beet sugar was less than two per cent. of the domestic output.

TYPHOID FEVER EPIDEMIC.

New Haven's Cases Considered by State Board of Health.

The disastrous epidemic of typhoid fever now prevailing (April, 1901) in a limited section of the city of New Haven was fully considered by the state board of health, in the light of all the facts then known, at its meeting held April 11.

The duties of local health officers, as regards their responsibilities in typhoid cases, were discussed at length, and the board took action, as expressed in the following circular.

The sudden calamity afflicting New Haven and involving already more than 400 patients, of which the fatal effects cannot yet be told, was caused solely by neglecting the disinfection and safe disposal of the stools of three typhoid fever patients in one family, living upon a watershed tributary to one of the reservoirs of the New Haven Water company.

The state board of health by this circular wishes to impress upon every local health officer in the state, and particularly upon those whose jurisdiction includes any watersheds contributing to public water supplies, their great responsibility in guarding them from typhoid fever infection.

The board believes it to be the duty of every health officer to make personal inquiry in regard to the disinfection and final disposal of the excretions of every typhoid case reported to him, and to satisfy himself that the methods adopted are effective and safe.

Sad experience has proved that the mere verbal advice of the attending physician to disinfect the stools with this, that or the other agent, is not always understood or effectively carried out.

It is not always the fault of the doctor. The most careful instructions may be disregarded or imperfectly observed, and he has no power to enforce them. The health officer is clothed with authority to require obedience to sanitary regulations which are so important to public safety.

The board regards the supervision by local health officers of the disinfection and final disposal of the excretions of typhoid fever patients as a responsible duty. The significance of this duty is intensified, if there is any risk of pollution of water supplies, particularly those from which large communities are served.

Among the best and cheapest agents is "Milk of Lime," prepared by slaking two pounds of lime with a pint of hot water. This will make a dry powder when slaked. To this powder add four times the volume of cold water, making a mixture of the consistency of cream. To every stool add a little more than an equal quantity of the milk of lime and thoroughly mix them. The mixture should stand two hours before final disposal. The milk of lime should be kept covered from the air and freshly prepared every day or two. Air-slaked lime is good for nothing.

An equally good preparation is made by dissolving a quarter of a pound of the best chloride of lime in a gallon of cold water. This is to be mixed with the stools in the same way, and to stand an hour or two.

Still another effective disinfectant of excreta is made by mixing equal parts of carbolic acid and sulphuric acid. It must be done carefully and slowly, and kept artificially cool while mixing. To one part of this preparation add twenty parts of water. It is a strong disinfectant, and to be used just as the others are. Both stools and urine should always be disinfected before final disposal. The urine should be disinfected faithfully, during convalescence. After disinfection, the discharges may be thrown into the privy or sewer, or, if practicable, buried in the ground, two feet below the surface.

Caution:—Do not depend upon any of the advertised proprietary disinfectants. They are not as effective as the above agents, and they cost many times as much.

AUGUSTIN DALY'S WAY

And by this time the management of the company had been reduced to a very complete routine. If there is any one word that can express Mr. Daly's system, it is watchfulness. The French saying that, to insure success, "the eye of the master" should be everywhere could be applied to him. From whatever source he got his play, whether it were one of his own, one of his adaptations, Shakespearean or otherwise, or an original work of some other man, the first thing Mr. Daly did was to read it to the company. He read very well, indeed, too. Then he gave out the parts, and rehearsals began. He was not a severe rehearser, as far as long hours went. We were usually "called" for eleven in the morning in the early days, but later, when Miss Reichen was not so strong, and had to be spared, we would often not begin until after one—after Mr. Daly's own lunch—and then things would drag on, rather. Often, of course, rehearsals would be called for the general company only, and then we principals would not have to go.

Mr. Daly was very exacting in his training of the subordinates and would not tolerate anyone standing about as if uninterested in the action of the piece. I have no wish to set myself up as a critic of his methods, but it sometimes seemed to me that he had even too much movement in some of his scenes. With us principals he rarely interfered seriously, letting us work out our own ideas of our parts, although everything had to pass his final approval before it could stand, and he would cut out our pets lines at the last moment, if he saw fit. Then, too, he would have sudden inspirations. I remember once I had an entrance to make, and, just as I crossed the threshold, something pulled me back. Of course, I threw up my hands and flung back my head, and the effect was comic, and, as it happened, in keeping with the part. When I turned round to see what had done it, there was the "governor," holding on to my gown and laughing.—Mrs. Gilbert in Scribner's Magazine.

THE SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN.

In a timely article on "The Trust Builders," in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for May, the author tells of an incident in the career of James B. Duke, related by a Wall street man who is closely associated with the American Tobacco Co.

Several years ago one of the vice-presidents of the American Tobacco company aspired to the position of president. Without saying anything to Mr. Duke, who then, as now, held this position, he induced a number of his Wall street friends to buy up enough of the shares of the company to give them control of its affairs.

When the next election of directors was held Mr. Duke found that a new factor had appeared in the company, and that this vice-president was on the point of being elected over his head.

Just before the date on which the election was to take place Mr. Duke visited two of the Wall street men who had bought to tobacco stock in the interest of the ambitious vice-president. He said to them in effect:

"Gentlemen, I understand that you have secured the controlling interest in the American Tobacco company, and that you are about to elect Mr. ... to the position of president. Before you do this I have only one thing to say. It is this: I have served as president of this company, not through the influence of my friends, but through my own ability. I am president of the American Tobacco company simply because I am the best man in the United States for that position. If I did not feel that I was the best man in the United States to occupy the presidential chair of the company I would not occupy it. Good day!"

Mr. Duke does occupy the presidential chair, and rightly

YESTERDAY'S Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Addressed Yesterday by Rev. Frank H. Hall.

The regular meeting for men was held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday afternoon and although the pleasant weather kept many out of doors about one hundred men attended the interesting service. Besides the usual orchestral music and chorus singing, Carl A. Mears sang to the delight and profit of all "Over the Line" and "Feele a Bird."

The Rev. H. Frank Hall, Ph. D., pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, delivered a strong address on "Independence" as shown so grandly in the life of Saint Paul. Paul possessed the best of education, came from a good family, before him were splendid prospects for advancement and his opportunities for success, as the world regards success were unparalleled. How intoxicating to Paul as a young man must have been his realization of the power he could wield when he awoke to the possibilities within him, but after his experience and heavenly vision near Damascus he turned right about and led an unpopular life, but he learned that he must stand alone with his God and go forward. "Look at him at Antioch as he starts out on his first missionary journey. See him crossing the Aegean water in response to the call 'come over into Macedonia and help us.' Whether he stood before Philippius, as he did in Athens, or before judges or Caesars we see in Paul a man who knew how to stand alone. Was there ever a man who amounted to anything that did not know how to stand alone? Look at Knox before that queen rebuking her for her sins, but Scotland through him was saved. See General Grant standing alone resolving to 'fight it out on this line if it takes all summer'... Independence is needed not only by great men of the earth but by every man. Down in our natures is written that word 'independence.' Some time or other the thought comes to a man that he must stand alone in this world. When life is nearing its end, and the drama of life has been played he goes back to God that gave life and he goes alone. Every man has an idea of what he should be but he goes out into the every day business life and finds it hard to stand for those principles which are to be followed if he would reach his ideal. May God give us strength to decide for the right and enable us to stand for Christian principles even though we stand as Paul stood, alone."

WAGON TOURISTS.

There is a jolly party encamped on Mrs. Sarah E. Camp's place, Ligonier. It consists of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gough, of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Goundle, of Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fries and daughter, of Cincinnati, O. They arrived this morning in "prairie schooners," and are touring California in this manner. Mr. and Mrs. Gough are old friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrows, and will visit with the latter while in Redlands. They left home a year ago, crossed the northern part of the United States and Canada by rail, going in easy stages; then came to San Diego by steamer. Two weeks ago they started north by "prairie schooner" and will proceed to the Yosemite from here. Mr. Fries is an artist and is doing considerable sketching and painting as they proceed. They visited the missions at Pala, San Diego and San Rey, on the way here from the city of San Francisco. They do not know how long they will remain here, as they expect to visit all points of interest before going further.—Redlands

OBITUARY NOTES.

Luther B. Couch.

Luther B. Couch of 450 Edgewood avenue died early yesterday morning of typhoid fever, after an illness of four weeks. Mr. Couch was teller of the National New Haven bank and was the son of Robert L. Couch, the cashier of the same bank, and one of New Haven's prominent citizens.

The deceased was twenty-six years of age and about a month ago was taken seriously ill with the disease that later developed into typhoid fever. He did not seem to improve any and despite the best medical care he died yesterday.

Three days after Mr. Couch was taken with typhoid his wife became ill with the same disease. They were attended by Dr. Tuttle of Whalley avenue, and have been in the same house, but unable, of course, to see each other.

The husband died not having seen his wife for nearly a month, and when the news of his death was told to Mrs. Couch the terrible shock almost killed her. The attending physician said last night that while Mrs. Couch is dangerously ill he believed that she would slowly recover, notwithstanding the fact that the news of her husband's death caused her to have a set back that would ordinarily prove fatal. Dr. Tuttle said that she took the news with great courage considering the circumstances. Her fever has not yet left her but if she does not have a relapse within the next few days her recovery will be but a matter of time.

Luther B. Couch was one of the most respected of the younger men in New Haven, and his death will be a severe shock to all those who knew him. He has been teller of the National New Haven bank for the last three years, and previous to his becoming teller he was employed as an assistant in the bank. An official of the bank last night in speaking of Mr. Couch said: "He was of excellent character, a first rate accountant and was a bright and reliable man." He was a member of Trinity M. E. church, and leaves no children. Owing to the extreme illness of his wife the funeral will be private.

ROBERT LOVEDAY.

Robert Loveday of Spring street died at his home Saturday evening of typhoid fever. He was seventeen years of age and was the son of William Loveday. He was employed, when he was taken ill, in the camera department of Mendel & Freedman's store.

DEATH OF MISS TESSIE DONEGAN.

The many friends of Miss Tessie Donegan will be grieved to learn of her death last Saturday afternoon at Grace hospital on Chapel street. She was a daughter of the late Richard and Mrs. Louise Donegan of 15 Scranton street. She had been ill home about two weeks with what proved to be typhoid fever, and was removed to Grace hospital, where the best of care was given her, but to no avail, after a short time a turn for the worse took place, and she passed away a half hour after bidding her mother good by. She was of a genial, kindly disposition and well liked by all with whom she came in contact.

Miss Donegan was sixteen years of age. She leaves besides her mother two brothers and one sister. The funeral will take place from her late home at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the burial will be in Evergreen cemetery.

The grading of Hall avenue will probably begin this week.

Mrs. S. E. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hopkins are home from an extended stay at Lake Helen, Fla.

SAVAN ROCK AMUSEMENTS.

J. A. Blake, the Popular Manager, will have Entire Charge This Summer.

J. A. Blake, who last summer so ably managed the theater at Savan Rock, has been engaged to manage all the entertainments which the Winchester Avenue Railroad company will provide at the Rock this summer. Mr. Blake is an experienced theatrical manager and gave universal satisfaction by his conduct of the amusements at the popular west shore resort last summer. His scope of management will be considerably broadened this summer and he will have entire charge at the Rock, and it is expected that the public entertainments there will be better than ever.

The New Haven Primary Union has changed its time of meeting back to Monday evening at 7:45 at the United church chapel. All primary and junior teachers are urged to attend.

employed in the manufactory and others called at the house to look at the body of the deceased. At the funeral Rev. Mr. Woodford of the Episcopal church officiated. The honorary pall-bearers were Judge Torrance, William Tingue of New York, Mr. Edwards of Boston, Hon. Norman A. Sperry of Seymour, Thomas Failes and Mr. Prime of New York. The other pall-bearers were managers and heads of several departments in the large manufactory, some of them being men who had been employed by Mr. Coupland for more than a score of years. The many large and expensive floral pieces and the display of beautiful flowers indicated the esteem in which the deceased was held. Mr. Tingue gave a large wreath of rare flowers, Mr. Sperry contributed a large piece composed of roses and lilies. Thomas Failes provided a wreath of foliage. Dr. Wilmet and wife gave an elaborate floral design which was much admired and indicated the florist's skill. A large piece, composed of beautiful flowers in the form of an anchor, was contributed by employees.

The body was tenderly lowered to its last resting place in the family lot at Milford, where a large number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances were in attendance.

Connecticut Delegation to Leave This Morning.

The national congress, Sons of the American Revolution, will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., April 29 and May 1. The headquarters will be at the Hotel Schenley. Special religious services will be held in St. Peter's Episcopal church Sunday evening, April 28.

The sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Ethelbert H. Ward, chaplain general of the S. A. R. The congress will convene for its first session at 10 a. m. Tuesday, April 30, in the ballroom of the Hotel Schenley. Tuesday afternoon an opportunity will be given the delegates to visit some of the large industrial plants, including the Carnegie Steel company and the Westinghouse Electric company, passing through Braddock's field, or a drive through the parks and residence districts of the city. Tuesday evening the delegates will be tendered a reception and ball by the Pittsburgh chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Hotel Schenley.

The second session of the congress will be held Wednesday morning and in the afternoon an entertainment will be given at Carnegie Music hall.

Wednesday evening a banquet will be tendered to the delegates by the Pennsylvania society at the Hotel Schenley.

A number of eloquent speakers have accepted an invitation to speak at the banquet.

The Connecticut delegation, consisting of General E. S. Greeley, General George H. Ford, Judge Hobart L. Hotchkiss, Franklin H. Hart, and Everett E. Lord, of New Haven, Judge Morris B. Beardsley, Henry C. Sherwood and Isaac W. Birdseye, of Bridgeport, Judge Levi E. Cox of Meriden, John W. Brooks of Torrington, Rufus E. Holmes of Winsted, Colonel Samuel Daskam of Norwalk, Major Frederick A. Spencer of Waterbury, and Charles J. Stone of Hartford, have arranged to join the Empire state delegates and have special sleeping cars attached to the Baltimore and Ohio train leaving New York early this morning.

The programme committee announces the programme for the symphony concert on the evening of Tuesday, May 7, as follows: The orchestra is carefully selected from the New York Symphony society, and will be under the direction of Frank Kaltenborn. To make this programme even more attractive, Mr. Everett Benham, the pianist of the festival, will play the E. minor concerto of Chopin with the orchestra, although the soloist for this concerto is the new singer, Miss Idalia Levy, perhaps the youngest star in the professional firmament to-day. She is already well known among the big opera singers, and it will be interesting to watch her career, for she is bound to have one if the prophecies of such people as Madam Sembrich, Maurice Grau and Pol Placido are well founded.
